Abducted Girl Is Found Unharmed In Philadelphia

Five Year Old Girl Kidnaped In Trenton, N. J., On Friday Afternoon

MAN SUSPECTED AS ABDUCTOR HELD (BULLETIN)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Cute and dimpled five-year-old Janie Franz, abducted in Trenton, N. J., yesterday afternoon, was found unharmed today in Philadelphia.

Her suspected abductor—swarthy, sharp-featured Gerald A. Hutt, 35, of Bridgeport, Conn.—was arrested by Philadelphia authorities.

Denies Abduction
A charge of kidnapping and indecent assault were filed against Hutt, a short-order cook who said he was enroute to a job in Philadelphia.

Hutt flatly denied abducting the little girl while she played near historic Trent House in Trenton, some 50 yards from her home. He insisted Janie asked him to take her for a ride when he stopped "to get a bite to eat" at a diner near the Franz home.

Hutt said Janie "got in the car by herself—I didn't make her." He likewise denied assaulting the youngster.

Because of the kidnap charge against Hutt, the FBI was called into the case.

Hutt's capture and the safe release of pretty little Janie, blonde and blue-eyed, ended an 11-state manhunt for the alleged kidnaper.

Notified Girl Is Safe
In Trenton, Janie's mother, Mrs. Mary Franz, uttered an emotional "thank God, she's alive" when state police notified her that her little girl was safe.

"Flash," who was bedded down on straw behind pilot, peeked out at Kansas City when the trio stopped for gas. John was drilling wheat on his Dad's farm when other Future Farmers left.

Senate Floor Battle On Arms Aid Certain

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Senate GOP floor leader Wherry, Neb., expressed doubt today that the administration can get $1,314,010,000 in "arms-for-friends" aid through the Senate at this session of Congress.

This is the amount settled on by the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees, which will put the final touches on the foreign military aid bill Monday and send it to the Senate floor.

Wherry told a reporter: "I don't see how they can get approval of even one billion dollars for European countries. There is no evidence here on which to base one single dollar of American arms aid to Europe."

Two major floor battles on the bill were a certainty:

1. On the amendment of Sen. George (D) Ga., to cut European arms funds from the one billion dollar committee would allow to 300 million dollars in cash. This lost in committee by a 13 to 10 vote.
2. The so-called "China-aid" compromise under which 75 million dollars would be given Presi-

Arrest Three Party Leaders In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Sept. 10.—(INS)—The Hungarian Communist party today announced the expulsion and arrest of three top-ranking party leaders in a move believed aimed at the spreading heresy of "Titoism."

The officials accused of being "spies for foreign imperialists and enemies of the Hungarian people" were named in the party's official newspaper, Szabad Nep, as:

Gen. Gyorgy Ralfy, general inspector of the Army, arrested at the end of June.
Zoltan Horvath, member of parliament and chief editor of Nep Szava, official organ of the trade unions, arrested Aug. 1.

Paul Justus, member of parliament and vice-president of the Hungarian state radio, arrested June 1.

The three men are expected to be tried with Laszlo Rajk, former foreign minister, who with several other party leaders goes before the people's court in Budapest Sept. 16, charged with treason and espionage.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 10.—(INS)—The Hungarian government charged former Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk and seven others today with spying for Yugoslavia and the United States and attempting to overthrow the Hungarian Communist regime.

Man Is Drowned, Two Boys Feared Lost In Boat Crash

PITTSBURGH, Cal., Sept. 10.—(INS)—A water-logged yacht, partially sunk in a collision in which one man drowned, was towed into Pittsburgh harbor today and Coast Guardsmen began pumping it out in search of two boys feared trapped aboard the smashed craft. Three other occupants of the 38-foot vessel, the Carlisle, were rescued shortly after the boat rammed a 104-foot barge last night at the east end of Suisun bay, an arm of upper San Francisco bay. The survivors are a man and two boys, brothers of the two feared drowned aboard the yacht.

All but the prow of the Carlisle was submerged shortly after the collision. Identification of the two missing boys was not determined but their ages were reported as 12 and 13.

Railroad Strike Affects Eleven Midwest States

Threat Of Industrial Paralysis Hangs Over Communities In Strike Region

MISSOURI-PACIFIC IS STRIKE BOUND

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—(INS)—The threat of economic paralysis hung heavily today over communities in 11 states served by the strike-bound Missouri Pacific railroad.

For some of the communities the Mo Pac is the only rail link with the rest of the nation and observers predicted serious economic dislocation if the work stoppage continued.

Five thousand operating employees, members of four rail brotherhoods, walked off their jobs at 2 p. m. (CST) yesterday. The strike idled some 22,000 other Mo Pac employees.

Service on the 7,200 miles of Mo Pac track, strung through rich middle-western southwestern and southern states, had been curtailed sharply before the strike. Officials put a freight embargo into effect at midnight last Tuesday. A similar ban on passenger, (Continued on Page Two)

Taft Will Oppose Reciprocal Trade Renewal Measure

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, said today that he expects to vote against the reciprocal trade renewal bill even if a Republican-sponsored revision is accepted.

Taft called the major change sought by his party—the so-called "Peril Point" amendment—"very mild" and declared its acceptance would not revise his present position that he will "probably" oppose the bill.

The amendment, proposed by Sen. Millikin (R) Colo., would require the president to give Congress his reasons if he ever lowers tariffs below a "Peril Point" set by the tariff commission.

Major Issue
It is the major issue in the pending bill, which would extend the now expired reciprocal trade agreements law until June 12, 1951. Adopted in 1948, the provision would be stricken from the new law unless the Millikin amendment is adopted.

Taft, Republican policy chief of the Senate, interrupted his Ohio pre-campaign speaking tour long enough today to level a blast at administration tariff policies and to (Continued on Page Two)

Autumn Sneaking Into This District

(By International News Service)
Don't look now, but autumn is gradually sneaking into western Pennsylvania.

The leaves haven't started to turn yet, but they will soon unless Indian summer sets in.

There was scattered frost in the western half of the state last night, and at Phillipsburg the minimum temperature was 28 degrees.

Those low readings weren't general, however. Pittsburgh's minimum was 48 and it was just moderately cool in most sections.

Continued cool weather is forecast through tonight. Today's highs in the area will range from 65 to 70, the weather bureau said, and the lows tonight will be almost exactly like last night's.

Tomorrow is to be slightly warmer with scattered showers in the afternoon.

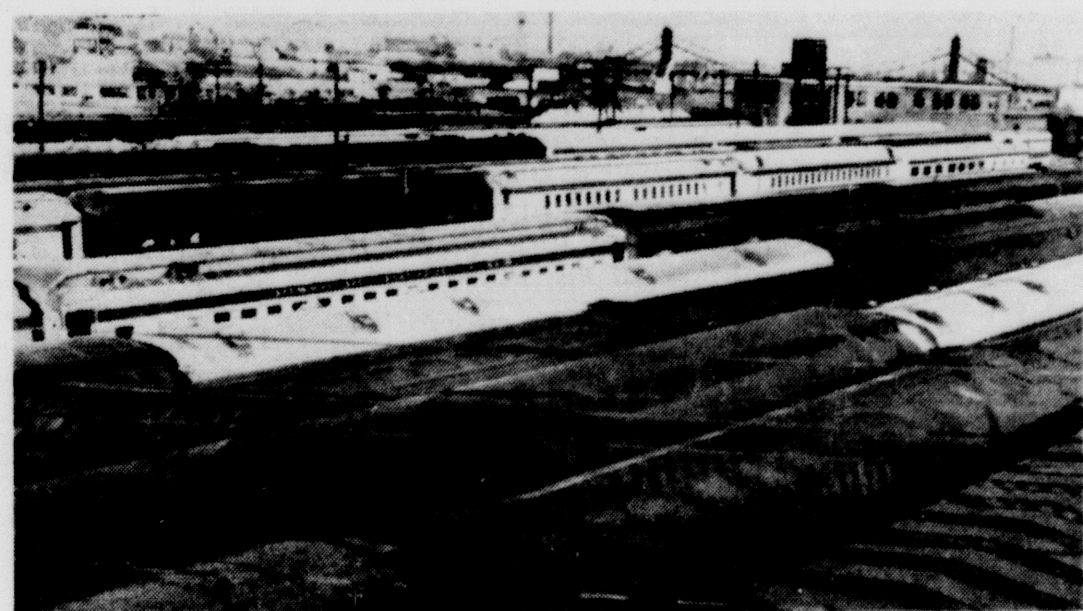

To Election Boards

Next Tuesday is primary election day. The News is again asking cooperation of all election boards in the various precincts in the city and county to aid in providing as early returns of the voting as possible.

Most boards cooperate excellently in this matter and aid in giving the public early returns. The News asks co-operation of all boards, and will appreciate any service given on Tuesday night.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—With a strike of 5,000 of its operating employees, Missouri Pacific Railroad trains began an enforced rest, today. These idle trains along with others, cover over 7,200 miles of track that sprawls into 11 states. Workers struck over a dispute over working rules.

Miss Arizona Moves Nearer To 1949 Title

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 10.—(INS)—Lovely Miss Arizona moved into the forefront of the 1949 "Miss America" contest by taking first prize for talent before some 7,700 spectators in convention hall last night.

The 5-foot 4-inch, brunette Jacqueline Mercer, of Litchfield, Ariz., who tied Miss California for first place in the bathing suit division on Wednesday night, won over 16 other competitors with a dramatic rendition of "Juliet's" "Potion Scene" from "Romeo and Juliet."

Gets Inside Track
The judges decision made Miss Arizona almost a sure bet to be among the five finalists tonight and gave her an inside track for the coveted title.

But, Miss California, lovely and blonde Jane Anne Pedersen, of Santa Rosa, was still crowding for the top spot.

She enhanced her chances by a fine dramatic presentation in the talent division.

American Aid To Japan Will Be Cut Down

TOKYO, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Undersecretary of the Army Tracy S. Voorhees said today that American aid to Japan will be cut 20 per cent this year and "progressively" reduced thereafter.

The Undersecretary, concluding a two-week inspection tour of Japan and the Ryukyus, said additional civilian personnel cuts in Japan will be left to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's discretion. But, he added:

"No change in the combat strength in Japan is contemplated."

Voorhees announced that the Army will continue to administer occupied Japan because "no other agency in Washington will be able to take over the task."

He declared that the Army Department will continue to give MacArthur a free hand in Japan. In fact, he said, the General will have even a freer hand than previously.

Wheat From U.S. Alleviating Bread Shortage In Spain

MADRID, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Cargoes of wheat from the United States today are alleviating one of the most critical bread shortages in Spain since the Spanish civil war, more than a decade ago.

The shipments are made on a purely commercial basis dependent entirely on the ability of importers to obtain dollar credits. Despite a rebuff the last time Spain sought a credit in the United States, government officials in Madrid hope that the U.S. will extend credits to increased wheat imports.

The only role played by the U.S. State department at present to authorize allocations which are a pure formality as long as the U.S. has a wheat surplus.

CONGRESSMAN DIES
NEEDLES, Cal., Sept. 10.—(INS)—Congressman Richard J. Welch of California died of a heart attack at 5:30 a. m. (PST) today at Santa Fe Emergency Hospital in Needles.

The 76-year-old legislator from San Francisco was taken off the eastbound Santa Fe Chief last night by an ambulance which met the train in Needles.

Political Angle Will Enter Dollar Parley

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The crucial three-power talks on Great Britain's dollar crisis were expected today to turn quickly to the world struggle between Communism and democracy.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's chancellor of the exchequer, has made it clear to Canadian and United States leaders that Britain believes continuation of the present western alliance against Communism to be dependent on a successful outcome of the conference.

His assertion was regarded as more of a warning than a threat, but it appeared to confirm reports that political matters will enter what started out to be purely economic talks.

Cripps told a luncheon audience at the National Press Club Friday that "it's a truism—which no doubt your chiefs of staff have repeated, as have ours—that a sound strategy of defense can only be based upon a stable and healthy economy, and without a sound strategy of defense no political arrangements can be effective."

Meet Again Today
The representatives of the three powers were due to meet again at the State department today.

Treasury Secretary Snyder has indicated that today the conferees will decide when to issue a communiqué on their progress. The talks are due to end Wednesday.

It was generally understood that the United States would be willing (Continued on Page Two)

Fact-Finding Board Report Is Presented

Steel Board Hands Report Of Hearings To President Truman Today

TO BE RELEASED TO PUBLIC TONIGHT (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—President Truman today asked both management and labor in the threatened steel strike to extend until "at least September 25" their no-strike truce.

By WILLIAM KERWIN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—President Truman received the report of his steel fact-finding board today and was expected momentarily to issue a new appeal for an extension of the truce to prevent a strike next Wednesday.

The president conferred with members of the board for nearly an hour.

A presidential statement on the steel strike situation was expected within a short time.

To Be Released
The report of the board itself will not be released until 7 p. m. EDT today.

After the board members conferred with the President, Chairman Carroll Daugherty said that the board's report "speaks for itself." He said:

"We have discharged our duty. Anything else must come from the White House."

Their report is understood to recommend pensions and social insurance but not a general wage increase.

His proposed solution is expected to provide no general wage increase, but a plan which would cost the employers ten cents an hour per worker—six cents for pensions and four cents for medical care and other social security provisions.

The Steelworkers union has insistently demanded a 30-cent fourth-round pay increase, which would cover pension-welfare provisions. This demand has been turned down by 63 steel companies.

'No Comment'
Reports of the 10-cent "package increase" brought only "no comment" from the union, the companies and the panel.

Mr. Truman has indicated he would ask both sides to extend the deadline another 10 days to give (Continued on Page Two)

To Study Means Of Providing For More Dollar Aid

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Top representatives of United States, Canada and Great Britain today agreed to establish machinery for a continuing study of means of encouraging the flow of dollar capital investments to the sterling areas.

The decision was made in the adoption of a report from a working committee assigned to study overseas investments. It was headed by Assistant Secretary of State Willard L. Thorp.

The report was made public following the meeting by the conference chairman, U. S. Treasurer Secretary Snyder.

The committee, including the foreign ministers and finance ministers of the three powers, held a three-hour session this morning and adjourned until 11 a. m. (EDT) Monday.

Snyder said that the three other working groups will continue at their discussions over the week-end.

Waitt Is Retired From Active Duty

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Army Chemical Corps Chief Alden Waitt was retired from active duty today and Quarter Master General Herman Feldman was given an official admonition as a result of the "five percent" inquiry.

Army Secretary Gray announced that Feldman will continue in his post as Quarter Master General.

The Army announced the actions against the two Major Generals after a lengthy investigation of charges growing out of the Senate probe. Both Waitt and Feldman had been suspended pending the Army's investigation.

Both Waitt and Feldman received administrative admonitions from Army Secretary Gray for "Errors of judgement."

Charges Skater Forced To Join Musician's Union

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(INS)—An actors' agent charged today that an ice skater who "can't even play 'God Save The King' on the clarinet" was forced to join Czar James C. Petrillo's American Federation of Musicians Union.

Harry Hirsch, agent for Skater Bobby Blake, made the declaration in the mounting jurisdictional battle between Petrillo and the Associated Actors and Artists of America.

Blake was forced into the musicians' union because he played three random notes on a clarinet during a road show, his agent said.

laughed and cried alternately as she rejoiced that tiny Janie was found unharmed.

Then she murmured gratefully: "How good the people were to me in this great trial. I never knew I had such wonderful neighbors."

Swarms of volunteers, many of them family friends, had joined police in a fruitless all-night search in Trenton.

Janie's father, John, 30, a beer truck driver, and Mrs. Franz left in a police car at once for a joyful reunion in Philadelphia with their daughter.

Dropped Along Boulevard
Philadelphia police said that Janie had been dropped along the busy Roosevelt boulevard, a connecting link between Philadelphia and Trenton, this morning.

Raymond Michael, an elert New Jersey policeman, saw the child get out of the car.

He picked her up and forwarded to Philadelphia police the license number of the auto from which, the youngster stepped out.

Hutt was halted several miles further down the boulevard and taken into custody.

Janie, apparently unharmed, was taken to the House of Detention for a thorough examination by physicians.

speak out on Britain's dollar crisis from the Senate floor.

He is flying back to Ohio this afternoon, to enter his second week of talking to constituents about national issues and local problems. His speaking forays will last for 12 more weeks.

To Oppose Bill
Taft recalled that he voted for the Republican "Peril Point" procedure last year. He was not recorded on the final vote. Prior to that he had opposed the program.

He indicated he would vote for the Millikin amendment and then oppose the bill itself. In explaining his opposition, he told the Senate:

"The act unquestionably gives the president power to destroy American industry and is a complete delegation of legislative power."

Like most of other speakers on the tariff issue, the Ohio senator got onto the subject of Britain's economic troubles. He said:

"I think Great Britain fell behind because she abandoned the idea of a free economy."

crew members. The scene of the crash was 18 miles northeast of St. Joachim and about 40 miles northeast of Quebec.

Investigators for Canadian Pacific Airlines and the Canadian Federal Department of Transport opened separate inquiries into the cause of the disaster.

The plane took off from Quebec City en route to Bate Comeau near the mouth of the St. Lawrence river, only a short while before the fatal plunge.

Americans Victims
The three American industrialists, all residents of New York were E. T. Standard, president of Kennecott Copper Co., Russell J. Parker, vice-president of Kennecott and Arthur D. Storke, who was scheduled to succeed Standard.

The only Americans aboard the airliner—they were on a business trip inspecting mining centers in Quebec Province.

Officials investigating the tragedy faced the problem of untangling conflicting theories and reports to support it.

Rescue parties were forced to hack their way through the dense woods to reach the scene of the crash.

The bodies were brought by wooden sleds to a lonely railroad siding and will be taken back to Quebec City.

A fisherman said he heard an explosion and saw smoke streaming from the plane as it plummeted earthward. But airline officials discounted the explosion theory and said there was no evidence to support it.

The accident was the third worst in Canadian aviation history.

Will Vote For Cut Back
Senate GOP policy chief Taft, Ohio, was asked if he would support the George amendment. He replied:

"Sure, I'll vote for any amendment to cut back the program."

He said that while he hasn't studied the legislation as drafted by the committee, he expects to vote against it.

George, announcing he will lead the floor fight for his slash, explained:

Dog Came First

A DIVORCE decree was awarded Mrs. Joyce Brainerd (above) when she told a Los Angeles judge that, when her husband Carl, 27, came home nights, he kissed her dog before caressing her and the baby. There were some other complaints, such as spending an inheritance on cars and cameras. (International)

Divorces In 1948 Show Decline; 420,000 Issued

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Divorces in the United States numbered 420,000 in 1948 a decline of one seventh from the 1947 total, and one third fewer than the all-time high of 626,000 in 1946, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Despite the sharp countrywide downward trend, however, the 1948 figure was higher than for any year prior to 1945.

The figures, based upon data obtained through inquiries to state, county, and court offices, include annulments and, for New York State, dissolutions by Enoch Arden decree.

The divorce rate for 1948 was 2.9 per 1,000 population, as compared with 3.4 in 1947 and 4.4 in 1946. The highest rates were recorded in Nevada, Florida, Idaho, Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona, and Arkansas, and the lowest in the Eastern states from Vermont to Delaware, South Carolina, North Dakota, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. In general, the frequency of divorce tended to increase as one moved from East to West and North to South.

"The present decline in divorce will undoubtedly continue in the near future," the statisticians forecast. "This does not mean that the long-term upswing has been reversed; it seems more likely that the decline is temporary, similar to the pattern after previous postwar booms in divorce."

both sides time to discuss the report. Such a move probably will be agreed to by the industry and the union.

A meeting has been called by the Steelworkers union executive board and wage policy committee for Monday in Pittsburgh to begin immediate consideration of the board's recommendations.

It has argued that the pay boost is justified because the companies are bulging with profits. Moreover, the union contended an increase would improve the condition of the country's economy.

The companies refused to grant the wage demands on the ground that the general business situation is so uncertain that a raise at this time would be harmful.

The board is headed by Prof. Carroll R. Dougherty of Northwestern university. The other two members are Judge Samuel Rosenman, former presidential adviser, and David Cole, who has served on many presidential labor investigating boards.

RAILROAD STRIKE AFFECTS ELEVEN MIDWEST STATES

mail and baggage service began at midnight Thursday.

Mediators Fail
The walkout of engineers, firemen, trainmen and conductors over 282 disputed claims came less than an hour after government mediators in Washington announced that last-minute settlement efforts had failed.

The Missouri Pacific normally carries an average of 12,000 passengers and 250,000 tons of freight daily. Commerce and industry in the affected states must seek other means of transporting their goods.

Industries in some of 1100 communities on the Mo Pac's lines began laying off workers before the walkout. The freight embargo pinched other concerns in rich agricultural states.

Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas and Texas apparently will be the hardest hit states. The nation's cotton and rice harvests will be affected. Also served by the line are Oklahoma, Mississippi, Tennessee, Nebraska, Colorado, Louisiana and Illinois.

The claims on which the road and the brotherhoods could not agree involved interpretations of working rules. About three million dollars is involved in the dispute.

Demands Right To Gaze At Stars
DETROIT, Sept. 10.—(INS)—The Detroit city council faced a new and pressing problem today—should the city protect a citizen's right to gaze at the stars?

Citizen C. J. King, complained to council that searchlights constantly criss-crossing the sky over Detroit are spoiling his favorite evening pastime—stargazing.

Council sought advice from city attorneys on whether it has the right to restrict the use of searchlights.

The Manufacturers Light and Heat company employees closed their August "No Accident" safety campaign with a perfect safety record. There was not a single injury during the month to cause time lost from work.

Irving K. Peck, vice president and general manager, reported that this same record was accomplished throughout the other six associated gas companies making up the Pittsburgh group of The Columbia Gas System, Inc.

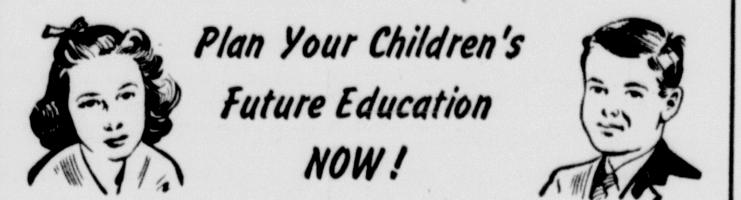

Approximately 2,975 men and women in the seven gas companies worked safely for 501,110 hours during the annual August drive for improved safety practices.

Flowers Are For Remembrance

In this busy age few of us can afford the time necessary to make all the calls we should. It isn't carelessness, it's a lack of time.

But, lacking the time to call on our shut-in friends, it's a gracious custom to send flowers. Flowers are for remembrance. Show them that you have not forgotten.

A bouquet of flowers fills in part, that lack of companionship a personal call supplies.

WHY NOT GIVE LABOR A CHANCE?

Serving as a city councilman calls for a number of qualities. Among them are rigid honesty, common sense, and a regard for the welfare of our people.

All types of citizens have been represented in council. New Castle being the industrial city it is, it occurs to me that union labor should be given a proportionate representation.

I am a member of a union, chairman of the Executive Committee of Local 398, International Molders and Foundry Workers Union.

I want to do my part towards promoting the progress and welfare of the people of New Castle. Whenever the occasion has demanded it I have served in civic affairs. When the nation needed soldiers I also served there.

The working people of New Castle have a right to a representation in our council. If you believe this, I will appreciate your vote on Tuesday in the Democratic primary.

YES, I PROMISED

Mr. Councilmen not long ago you seemed interested in Promises made by a candidate for the position of councilman. I am proud to clarify yours and my position on this subject to the people of New Castle.

I promise to do all in my power to repeal the present Wage Tax forced upon the people of this city. I promised that if elected to office, to propose legislation to provide public swimming pools for the people of New Castle. I promised to propose legislation for the improvement of Cascade Park, to restore it to what many of us remember before yours and other long termed Councilmen took office.

I am very proud to be able to promise these items of public interest to the people. Promised with a sincerity that is beyond the thought of any interruption by you or any political machine.

I deem it wise and am definitely in favor of close within means procurement. Not the ideas of councilmen in the past, to buy to the ends of the cities credit line, leaving funds unavailable for items that are actually needed.

In one of the present city councilmen's political ads, it was stated that our city's financial status on the markets of the country is L. A. In the position of that particular councilman, it is nearly unbelievable that he should make that statement. For nearly everything under his jurisdiction has lost money year after year. So the credit could hardly be directed toward his division of the city government.

It is a known fact that one councilman has informed the people of New Castle of what a fine job of ashing was accomplished in the past midwinter. It certainly takes an artist in his line to direct a group of men to ash a street. This present councilman knows the position of every sewer in the City of New Castle was brought out in his announcement. What a Terrific Virtue. Especially when all that was needed to accomplish this feat was a pair of good eyes, for they are all listed and marked on many available city maps.

Yes, credit is given elaborately to office holders during election time. But the truth is withheld for calmer periods. I have made my stand on various subjects during this campaign and am extremely proud that I have not backed up on a single point. I promised, and again I promise to use all the sources of power that God has given me to serve faithfully, honestly and

SINCERELY . . .

LISTEN, THE WIND

Man has harnessed the wind ever since the first venturesome navigator used a skin or a tree branch for a sail. He has made it drive ships and pump water and grind grain. He is still making use of it, but in this century the wind vessel and the windmill have been yielding their one-time supremacy to machines utilizing other kinds of power.

Coal, gasoline, oil have been found more efficient than moving air not only in direct applications but for the production of electric power.

That is a thumbnail sketch of a development that has brought changes so numerous they could hardly be listed and so great it is almost impossible to appreciate them fully. But now, surprisingly, it appears that the process moving toward a new climax through the control of the atom may swerve back to the starting point again. The beginning of another age of wind power may be near.

Practical designs for "aerogenerators," huge windmills capable of producing cheap electric power, have been completed, according to Percy H. Thomas, a member of the Federal Power Commission. A machine that could generate 7,500 kilowatts can be constructed, according to Thomas.

What about the problem resulting from the fact that the wind doesn't always blow? The wind's energy can be saved up, Thomas says, by using it to pump water into reservoirs, to be drawn off through turbines on calm days. Besides, he added, many industries use large quantities of power without requiring a steady supply. Aerogenerators can be built at low cost, upkeep is inexpensive, and fuel costs nothing.

Hear that wind? It may have much work to do—real work—before very long.

SALT, DIRT AND YONDER

They say the best way to get over a pique is to work it off, and that is what the Navy intends to do. The sea-going service was handed a heaven-sent chance of getting home its point regarding the strategic value of carrier-based aircraft the other day when Defense Secretary Johnson decreed the new project of "cross indoctrination" for members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Organization and lesser brass of the three branches of service.

It is supposed to work in this fashion: Gen. "Lightning Joe" Collins, top man of the Army, and General Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force head, will be guests of Chief of Naval Operations Louis Denfeld aboard a carrier. Admiral Denfeld and General Collins will take a hop in a B-36, and General Vandenberg and Admiral Denfeld will be bumped and bashed around in a Sherman tank.

Presumably, the chiefs of the guest service in each case will become more conversant with the operating problems of the host service. The practice will not stop with the top rank stratum. Considerable numbers of Army, Navy and Air Force officers will cover themselves with salt, wild blue yonder, and just plain dirt in the interest of better cohesion and cooperation.

How it will work remains to be seen, although it's safe to assume that preconceived ideas and stiffness of neck will dissolve to some extent under the pangs of natural curiosity any military officer has for a sister branch of service. And with curiosity may come understanding.

The Navy, which has played to hostile audiences in the Defense Department for some years, now will have first crack at it, and it will have the star attraction, Mr. Johnson, as its guest. The way it is told, Mr. Johnson is going to get the works aboard a carrier operating in the Atlantic off the Virginia Capes.

He'll be flown aboard, helicoptered to other ships, and perhaps flown ashore. Navy expectations are that the secretary, having seen what flat-tops can do, will be asking himself, "How can I be so wrong?"

Mr. Johnson, like a good umpire, won't change his basic decision, but the Navy's stock may be expected to rise a few points. And that's a step toward better understanding.

BRING BACK THE PAST

Pioneer days in Wyoming are to be restored for the edification of tourists at historic Jackson Hole.

A company financed by the Rockefeller family, who restored Williamsburg in Virginia, has made a beginning by installing the old ferry across the Snake River.

As a ferry house the homestead of William D. Menor, the old-time ferryman, has been furnished up, and it will serve also as a museum of Western history.

Next will come old wagons, such as an early stage coach, an Oregon trail wagon and one of 1885, all copied faithfully and protected by a vehicle house.

Thanks to the public spirited generosity of philanthropists who appreciate the importance of early American history, travelers will have an opportunity of seeing what life was like in the days before the luxurious ones in which we now live. There is room for more such memorials.

Taxes continue unpopular, but they never were in line for the judges' decision in a popularity contest.

Washington's efforts to educate the masses have resulted in a booklet telling how to distinguish a huckleberry from a blueberry.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

'Disclosure that a Bavarian farmer has seen fit to grow vegetables on Dachau's famous mass grave came as a shock to thousands throughout the world whose relatives died at Adolf Hitler's hands.

Step are being taken to remedy the situation by one means or another.

But the whole affair was a surprise. It develops that the farmer was entirely within his rights as the grave lies on his own property, which like every German farmer he has cultivated to the last square inch and more in the process of expansion when discovered.

His action, perhaps innocently, adds another chapter to one of the blackest stories in German history.

Ironical Development

Ironically, the hardworking peasant was halted in his grisly task of tilling up the grave at a moment when Germany's first independent legislative assembly in 16 years was holding its initial session at Bonn in an effort to launch Germany on democracy.

The incident must be particularly embarrassing to Bavarian members of the new legislature whose candidate for presidency of the upper house—Hans Ehard—was beaten out in the voting by Karl Arnold of North Rhine-Westphalia.

Dachau lies in the heart of beautiful Bavaria. Like Berchtesgaden—a lovely little mountain village—it came to be a blot on the landscape and upon the pages of history.

For all the passage of time, Dachau remains one of the weirdest places on the face of the earth.

Never Forgotten

Once seen, never forgotten. And the visitor can become almost convinced when the simple burghers of Dachau are telling the truth when they say that throughout all the years of Nazi butchery, they never knew that the concentration camp with its deadly gas chambers lay right outside their doors.

On first acquaintance, Dachau is a typical Bavarian town. There is a small hotel, liberally decorated with the antlered heads of unfortunate mountain goats and a few hundred clustered houses amid rich farmlands.

A single-track railway line passes through the town. A mile or so away there is a spur which runs southward to the vast acreage where the camp is situated and during Nazi days no one was permitted to approach that spur where trains carrying Dachau victims were switched off the main line.

Because of the heavy guard that always was maintained, the residents of Dachau knew that something unusual was going on in the guarded area. But they insist they always thought it was some sort of a military encampment—not a combined torture chamber and slaughter house.

Acres Of Barracks

When American and French troops first swept into Dachau as the Nazi armies crumbled, they found the acres of barracks, soup kitchens and exercise yards with

HOW BAD IS WORST?

The seventeenth amendment to the Constitution, passed and ratified during the administration of Woodrow Wilson, provided for the direct election of United States Senators by popular vote. Previously they were chosen by the legislature of each State, a system which worked admirably for a century and a quarter and which adorned the roster of the Senate with such names as Henry Clay, John Quincy Adams, DeWitt Clinton, Roscoe Conkling, James A. Garfield, John C. Calhoun, Chauncey Depew and many others. The reason for the change was never very clear nor very logical, and reduced to its simplest terms it was purely a political maneuver of the most questionable nature.

The intent of the framers of the Constitution was that a member of the House of Representatives should be the delegate of the people of his district, but that a Senator should represent the State as a whole, as distinguished from the people of the State. The method of election was a wise and farsighted measure, as it provided a check and counterbalance between the two Houses, a safeguard which has been lost completely under the amendment. Now a strong local feeling and one or two large centers of population, possibly engendered by labor difficulties, a clash of personalities or some circumstance arising in the heat of passion can elect a Senator who does not speak for the remainder of the State at all.—the very condition which the Constitution sought to avoid.

Have Deteriorated

In an event, it is evident that the dignity, public esteem and mental stature of the Senate have deteriorated greatly since the amendment was adopted. To confirm this one has only to read the Congressional Record which was filled with scholarly debate in the old days, but now is crowded with puerile repartee and crude attempts at humor. The members have the privilege of revising their remarks before printing, and they usually insert the words "laughter," "applause" or "cheers" in parentheses at points which appear to their artless minds to be appropriate. Formerly a Senator was usually a man of large calibre and too often he can be a big bore.

Of the two branches of the present Congress, the House is by far the more efficient and business-like. It has cleared its calendar but cannot adjourn without the Senate's concurrence, which is not forthcoming. On the other hand, the Senate has frittered away so much time in technicalities, filibusters and trivialities that it is hopelessly bogged down and cannot possibly consider at this session all of the important matters that are pending. As time runs out the situation grows daily more deplorable. Tempers are short and senatorial courtesy conspicuous by its absence. The minds of the lawgivers are occupied by the coming elections and their thoughts are filled with the political affairs of their several backwaters, to the exclusion of any consideration of the state of the Union.

Few thinking persons agreed with President Truman that the Eightieth Congress was the worst in history, but there were few who will not agree that it was infinitely superior to its successor.

All the original land surveys around Lake Pungo in North Carolina are tied to an ancient cypress tree on the lake shore, the stump of which is still standing.

And the clean joy of running down its long slope
With the wind in his hair.
He should know a tree
The comfort of its cool alip of shade,

Balancing him between earth and sky
So he is the creature of both.
He should know bits of singing water—

Consequences Of Admiral's Visit

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—So overwhelming is America's power in the world and so uncertain is the condition of Europe that it is hard to realize here in this country the consequences of the visit of an American admiral to Generalissimo Franco in Spain. It has set up a whole series of currents that are traveling like the waves of an earthquake to the farthest boundaries of power.

The visit of Admiral Richard L. Conolly is described in the Department of Defense as routine. But inasmuch as Admiral Conolly is commander in chief of the United States Navy forces in the Mediterranean and the eastern Atlantic, his visit to Spain as commander of a four-ship squadron cannot be written off in that fashion.

Being Propagandized

Certainly, Franco is not writing it off. It is being propagandized for all it's worth, and probably more, to try to convince the world that the United States is coming to the rescue of Spain's rapidly worsening economy.

For many months that has been the goal of Franco and the little clique around him that exercises such tight control over all of Spanish life—to get an American loan. Since Spain has no ambassador in Washington, as a result of the United Nations resolution withdrawing all chiefs of mission from Madrid, that is the mission here of the mysterious Jose F. Delequerica.

Officially an inspector in the Spanish foreign service with the rank of ambassador, Delequerica has been here for nearly a year and a half directing an insistent propaganda in behalf of Franco. He has been the power behind the hiring of influential Washington lawyers including Max O'Rell Tritt, son-in-law of Vice President Barkley.

Immediate Goal

The immediate goal is to get a group of senators to visit Spain in the course of a European tour to see how ECA money is being spent. Delequerica has extended an official invitation to the senators, members of the Appropriations committee, and Madrid is now reported officially on their schedule. But within the committee there

MY DOG AND I

My dog goes running here and there
And leads this world a wondrous race.
With odors delicate and rare
Of which I miss the faintest trace.
Unto his talent are revealed
Secrets from mortal minds concealed.

I walk the sure and solid way,
My dog, with keener scent and eye,
Roams through the field and finds
Points to say:
"Look! and a pheasant you will spy!"
Racing the meadow, far and wide,
He finds rare joys to men denied.

'Tis not in envy that I write,
But just an obvious fact to pen.
Dogs have rich sources of delight
Which God has not allowed to men.
Their world is filled with marvels rare
Mankind was not designed to share.

Better World Those Days

By PAUL GALLICO

In my file of Vital Clippings for Later Comment and Reference, I came across one I extracted some time ago from the daily press upon the occasion of the 46th birthday of "Peter the Great," resident of the Bronx Zoo in New York and billed as the oldest hippopotamus in the world, an event which was quietly celebrated last mid-July, and here I am just getting around to it for analysis, comment and clarification.

I think the Associated Press which released the story took in a little too much territory when they advertised Peter as the oldest in the world. They probably meant in captivity for there may be some older ones happily sloshing about in Egypt or Africa, or wherever it is they slosh. Still, 46 is a ripe old age, and when Peter was born, way back in dear old 1903, I was exactly six years old, and in all likelihood was dragged up to the Bronx Zoo to see the new baby hippo.

Better, More Relaxed World

It was a better and more relaxed world in those days, my dearly beloved clients, friends and supporters. You could name a hippopotamus, Peter the Great, after a famous Russian Czar, without being had up on charges of being a Red, or a Stalinite. In fact, you could name anything whatever you liked and there were no complaints. You of the younger generation would never believe me if I told you of the amount of own-business-minding that went on in my day.

As a matter of fact, I remember distinctly that there was another hippopotamus in the smaller Central Park Zoo at 5th Ave. and 63rd Street, which I befriended with my patronage since I was a midtown, east-side kid, and its collection of moth-eaten quadrupeds was more convenient, and HER name was Mrs. Murphy.

Brother, name a hippopotamus Mrs. Murphy today and see where you would wind up with the Irish societies, Or Mrs. Bacigalupo, or Mrs. Cohen, or Mrs. Ramirez, or Mrs. Wan Ling-ho. You would be branded anti-this and anti-that, meetings would be held, resolutions passed, and a thundering lot of people who had never seen you, or for that matter a hippopotamus either, would be out stirring up trouble for you right and left!

Caricatures Of The People

In fact the comic magazines of my times, Puck and Judge, were full of racial jokes with caricatures of the people who spoke the lines, and on the vaudeville stage there was blackface comedians, Irish comedians, Jewish comedians, and Italian comedians; the Germans, the French, the Dutch, the Mexicans and the Canadian Northwest Mounted Police all were merrily and mercilessly lampooned and nobody got into a sweat over it, or called mass meetings or demanded the boycott of anyone who ever told a dialect joke.

And furthermore—hey, wait a minute. What am I writing about? The hippopotamus or river horse. Well . . .

I am sure that there is something we could all learn from the hippopotamus, but I do not quite know what it is. In my youth, that is, just around the time Peter the Great was born, shortly after the turn of the century, I used to spend hours standing in front of Mrs. Murphy's tank which was in the old lion house in the Central Park Zoo, observing her in various aspects, and there is no way for me to know whether or not this has made an appreciable difference in my life and career.

Large Buckets Of Bread

At feeding time, the keeper came around with large buckets of bread soaked in water. Mrs. Murphy would thereupon open her mouth until it looked like the entrance to the Holland Tunnel, and the keeper, dipping into the bucket for a handful of bread, would take a wind-up and hit her square in the kisser with it.

I tried to abstract something that would aid me in later life from this object lesson, but cannot say that it has worked out too successfully. What I have received every time I have opened my big mouth wide, has not been a load of bread. There must have been some other aspects of Mrs. Murphy's racket to which I was not privy, or was too young to understand.

For the rest, I thought she lived a rather beautiful and contemplative life spent submerged in her tank of muddy water, with only her ears, her eyes and a nostril or two showing. She was, of course, enormously fat and never did a lick of work in her life. This exquisite existence has likewise managed to escape me.

While I did not know about such things then, I am perforce aware today that Mrs. Murphy was the ward of the state and lived the planned existence of total security from the cradle to the grave, the state, neither did she spin, and when she opened her yap somebody was around to soak her in the gullet with the staff of life, and perhaps this has been the hidden meaning behind the whole business all the time. All my life I have ignored the lesson of the joys of the planned economy and state socialism, which is rest and much adipose tissue and being able to lie around up to your ears in guck, doing nothing.

Darn! How does one get into politics when trying to write about hippopotami? Well, if it isn't too late beyond all reason, I would like to offer congratulations to Peter for his 46th birthday.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Sometimes I wonder whether a lot of our problems that seem so difficult to tackle could not be solved much more easily by using the short cuts of common sense and simple thinking.

For instance, take the problem of juvenile delinquency. At times it seems insurmountable, particularly in the large cities with their poverty, their slums, their ever increasing populations, and their many parents forced by economic circumstances to neglect their children.

Then you take a little journey to a most wonderful institution right in the center of populous New York State, and there, before your very eyes is a simple yet intensely practical solution of that seemingly unsolvable problem.

There, in Freeville, is a republic within the Republic.

It is called George "Junior Republic," so named after its founder and benefactor, and now supported by the cooperation of a number of civic clubs and organizations such as can be found in almost every American city.

There are two principles on which this Republic operates: "A Stitch in Time" and "Nothing Without Work."

On 550 acres of land, 125 boys and girls, who have been taken out of the slums of New York City and others of the country's large population centers, are being made into useful, responsible decent citizens of America.

All the "citizens" of the George "Junior Republic" had been in danger of becoming delinquents from lack of home care and proper discipline.

But none of them is "committed." Each "citizen" reaches the Republic through parents, welfare agencies, or by suggestion of the courts.

I wish you could visit that little America within our big America, and do visit it, by all means, if you are ever in the vicinity of the Finger Lakes region. It will open your eyes, and it may be the inspiration for a similar undertaking in your own section.

Everything the kids do is paid for, because everything they do is considered work.

Going to school is work. High marks bring high pay.

There are 75 dairy cows to milk each day. There is a print shop and a machine shop. There is plumbing to do and carpentering, welding, electrical work and arts and crafts.

For the girls there is sewing, canning, preparing meals and serving them. There is cleaning, washing, ironing, work in the bank, (yes, they have a bank of their own) and clerical work in the offices.

Each citizen is paid in the special currency of the Republic. All transactions within its confines are done with this money. When a "citizen" wants to leave and go to town—a privilege which has to be earned—he exchanges it for U. S. currency.

The "citizens" of George "Junior Republic" elect their own president, their officers, their judges and other functionaries, on a basis similar to that of federal, state and municipal governments in the United States.

Thus, these "citizens" are prepared for every phase of useful citizenship when they are ready to face the world.

I wish there were 150 million of us like those kids I saw at the George "Junior Republic!"

With just a few minor details to be worked out, plans for the city and county-wide observance of Rally Day on Sunday, September 25, have been completed. Finishing touches on the plans will be made this evening at 7:45 o'clock in the Second U. P. church when the New Castle Superintendents' Council meets at that time.

Everything possible is being done to spur the attendance for that day to bring the city attendance past the 25,000 mark. Visitors went to the various Sunday schools recently in an effort to make the Sunday schools really conscious.

The effort is being spearheaded by the superintendents' council and the County Sabbath School association.

Rev. J. Gaiser Will Preach On Slavery

Rev. James A. Gaiser, who is attending the sessions of the Erie annual conference at Meadville, will return to New Castle for the Sunday morning service in First Methodist church.

He has selected for his sermon theme "Modern Slavery." Does the truth make men free? Why do more persons not avail themselves of the freedom which could be theirs? You will want to hear this discussion of a practical Christian problem.

About 177,790 saloons were put out of business by prohibition.

FIRST CHRISTIANS

WILL HEAR SPEAKER
Miss Norma Norris of the McKinley Indian Mission, Toppensish, Wash., will speak at 8 p. m. on Wednesday, September 14, at the First Christian church.

Miss Norris will talk on the subject of "The McKinley Mission and Its Work with the American Indians in the State of Washington." She became interested in this mission while she was in college and visited there during the summer while she was still in school. The need for missionaries at McKinley was so great that Miss Norris, who went to work that summer, has not yet been able to leave her work to return to school and finish her course.

Members of the Edwards Missionary society of the First Christian church are sponsoring Wednesday's service, which is open to the public.

Dr. Bennett Will Mark Twenty-First Year Here Sunday

Pastor Of First Christian Church Will Also Observe 46 Years Of Active Ministry

DR. G. S. BENNETT

Sunday morning will be an unusual period in the history of Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church on the Diamond. During the morning worship service of the downtown church Dr. Bennett will mark 21 years as pastor of the First church in the city and at the same time mark 46 years of Gospel ministry.

The widely known pastor, who came to the city in September, 1928, is dean of the city ministers and has had a fruitful ministry in his church, as well as participated in numerous civic activities about the community. Dr. Bennett was quite active in the Boy Scout work and worked unceasingly in the U. S. O. work prior to and during the past war. He also aided in organizing the New Castle Council of Churches and has taken a definite part in the New Castle Ministerial association activities.

The local pastor was born in Australia and served in the ministry there before coming to the U. S. He was a Professor of Bible at Bethany college in Bethany, W. Va., before coming to this city. In looking back, Dr. Bennett discovered that he has conducted 450 weddings and 600 funerals while in the city. There have been 725 additions to the church.

Dr. and Mrs. Bennett have just returned to the city from Champagne, Ill., where they visited their son, Rev. Lawrence Bennett, who is a pastor there. Dr. Bennett has chosen to speak Sunday on the subject "Twenty-One Years of Service."

Start Series At Southside Church

Rev. T. J. Jones To Start Morning And Evening Sermon Series Sunday

The First Congregational church will return to its full program of services on Sunday.

With the community evening services on Sunday of the Council of Churches having closed, the First Congregational church will now return to its full church calendar.

Services will be held both morning and evening. Rev. T. J. Jones will begin a series of sermons on "The Beliefs That Matter" in the morning. In the evening his series will be on "The A. B. C. of the Christian Gospel."

The group which attended Salt Lake City for the annual national Gymnasia Ganu will return by Sunday morning and they will be cordially invited to attend.

New Ruling On Reenlisting In U.S. Air Force

In a new ruling passed by the United States Air Force, men discharged from the Air Force on or after September 2, 1949, only have a 30-day waiting period if they want to reenlist and be eligible for reenlistment privileges which include retaining the rank held at time of discharge. The airman will still get a reenlistment bonus if he waits 90 days before reenlisting.

Those men discharged prior to September 1, 1949, have a 90-day period in which to reenlist and still get reenlistment privileges.

Army reenlistment policy remains unchanged and airmen discharged from the Air Force may wait 90 days and enlist in the Army and receive the reenlistment bonus and retain their rank held in the Air Force.

Legislator Scores Printing Contracts

HARRISBURG, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Legislative printing contracts valued at approximately $187,000 were assailed today by House Majority Leader Hiram G. Andrews.

He said although the legislature adjourned April 28, commercial printers have published the daily journal only to April 6. Only 343 of the 569 acts adopted by the General Assembly have been issued—and those in loose leaf form—while another printer has published 437 acts in one volume.

He branded the contracts allowing tardy delivery "a scandal, an outrage and an imposition."

The legislative journal when completed is expected to cost about $112,000, while the balance will be spent on printing the acts of assembly.

electrically charged barbed wire which formed the main part of the camp.

Some time later, about a mile away, the found the gas chambers and crematoriums. The former were disguised as shower rooms. The clothing of the victims was taken away, ostensibly for cleaning. Then they were led into the spacious, spic and span concrete rooms. What appeared to be shower nozzles studied the walls and ceilings. But while the victims stood waiting for a needed and welcome bath, the nozzles spouted not water but a poison gas that killed them in a matter of minutes.

Mass Grave

Near these infamous buildings was the mass grave which the farmer tried to put under cultivation.

Allied troops made a virtual shrine out of it, calculating the number of persons whose charred remains were buried and erecting signs to remind visitors of the atrocities.

There was one area which the Nazis used for target practice on prisoners before they were cremated. On ridiculously small patch was found to contain the ashes and bones of 2,000 persons disposed of in a single day.

American authorities always felt the Germans would destroy all traces of Dachau when the occupation ended. They may have to reckon with a determined Bavarian farmer who owns this unallowed land.

Folks Of Fame

Marchese Guglielmo Marconi, the father of radio was born in Bologna, Italy, April 25, 1874. Even as a boy he showed interest in physical and electrical science. By 1895 he was convinced a system of telegraphy through space could be provided by means of electromagnetic waves. By year's end he was sending messages by these means at distances up to a mile. He took out his first wireless telegraphy patent in 1896. By 1901 he was transmitting and receiving signals in England from America. In 1916 he began experimenting with very short waves, having devised a beam system. He was created an Italian marchese in 1929. His death occurred July 20, 1937.

For Release Saturday, Sept. 10—Alfred von Tirpitz, probably the most famous of German admirals, was born at Kuestrin, March 19, 1849, the son of a high Prussian magistrate. He entered the Prussian navy in 1865. In 1911 he was named admiral of the fleet. He is the real father of the German navy, having long urged a strong fleet, which he organized. His first interest was the promotion of torpedo boats, which led to his great belief in the power of the submarines. In World War I his U-boats did staggering damage to Allied shipping. However in 1916, he resigned all his offices for political reasons. He died at Eberhausen, near Munich, March 6, 1930.

Decorating the Youngster's Room

The "cute" approach to the decoration of children's rooms can be seen on every hand. Women's magazines, both through articles and advertising, try to convince parents that they should turn the young hopeful's quarters into a pirates' den, a Western ranch house, a fairy grotto of some other fanciful place. Linoleum manufacturers have Mother Goose floors, alphabet borders or what have you.

The things are often appealing to the child. They're cute to show off to visitors. At first, too, they may be fascinating to the child. As he grows older, however, gnomes, lamps, fairy curtains and other such ge-gaws seem like "baby-stuff" to him.

Plain floors are better than decorated ones, for as youngsters play they will want to imagine at one time that they are on a battle-field, at another on a Western ranch. If there are inlaid marine decorations, it's hard for one's imagination to be very effective.

Most youngsters like to put up pictures of their own movie actresses, ball players, cowboy scenes, etc. If some of the wall space is made of wall board on which pictures and other things can be tacked, your child will appreciate it. It's better to let him have the sort of room he likes rather than to make things too fancy.

ONE MAN KILLED IN EXPLOSION

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 10.—(INS)—One man was dead today, and another in a serious condition at Wilkes-Barre General hospital in the aftermath of an oil burner explosion in a cottage near White Haven.

The victim of the oil-fed flames was Edmund Saneski, 38, chauffeur for former State Auditor General G. Harold Wagner. Saneski was trapped in the cellar. Taken to the hospital was Gerald Miller, a White Haven plumber, who leaped into Penn Lake to extinguish the flames which had seared his body.

The blast occurred yesterday while the men were repairing an oil burner in a cottage owned by Peter Saneski, a brother of the victim.

BUTCH IS A CEMENT MIXER

The making of cement is a big business. Millions of dollars are invested in it. Millions of men are employed.

Chemists and other scientists are kept busy trying to make cement better and cheaper.

Butch is in the cement business too. He doesn't know about it and it doesn't worry him much.

He is, in the business of making teeth and bones. He does a good job too.

Cement makers are very particular about the materials they use.

Butch needs good materials too. He needs lots of fresh vegetables. It would be fine if he could have a quart of milk every day. Cheese helps Butch's cement business too.

LAST MINUTE RUMORS

In the closing hours of a campaign for office there are always apt to be last minute rumors, half truths, and unfounded charges, all designed to confuse the voters. Honest men and women pay no attention to them.

In my candidacy for the Republican nomination for City Council, I have been willing to let my record speak for itself. Lacking any grounds for charges of inefficiency, some of my opponents have endeavored to set up a smoke screen of veiled insinuations tending to prove something or other which is not made clear.

One asks why the City Treasurer does not collect the wage tax. Only one with either a total ignorance of the law or a wilful desire to mislead would suggest such a thing. The state law makes it mandatory that a tax receiver, which cannot be the City Treasurer, be established by Council. Council does not make the state law.

In another statement he seems to imply that the city should not have a recreation program. He confuses the Mayor's Recreation program with the City Recreation program, a program sponsored jointly by the city and schools, operated by a group of civic-minded citizens and supervised by competent directors. This is the recreation program of which I spoke, the one which was started after my election to Council and which is under my department of City Council. The Mayor's Recreation program is one paid for, not by taxes but by private contributions, and by the teen age youngsters themselves from their Swing Lobby.

Finally, is there anything wrong with New Castle's being financially sound? Are we to operate by deficit financing? Or should we be able to look our municipal neighbors in the eye and say, "our credit is good?"

In spite of a few critics, I am proud of our solvent condition in New Castle. I hope you are. If nominated and elected I expect to continue along the path of municipal solvency.

High School Band Features At Game

"Ole King Football" and "Ole Man Weather" shared the spotlight last night at Taggart Stadium as the curtain was raised on another football season.

Phil Biedenbach and his men provided the football and the New Castle High School band took care of the weather angle. Under the direction of Joe Replogle the band opened the season with a weather forecast show.

The first forecast was for poor weather as the band played "Rain" while coming out to the field, but the prediction quickly changed and so did the tune to "My Blue Heaven." With the weatherman assuring them of good weather, the band formed the outline of a closed umbrella and played "Blue Skies."

Just as they finished playing the band got a flash that there was going to be another change, this time for the worse, and so they gave out with "Stormy Weather." Then with the bass drum and cymbals combining to give a thunder and lightning effect the field lights went out, the band lights came on with a new formation outlined. This time it was an open umbrella. The rains came, but the band had their bumbershoot up in time so they just laughed at the weatherman and playing "Singing in the Rain."

Next came the prediction for the Friday nights during football season. The report was for good weather and to show their happiness the band did a dance step while playing "It Ain't Goin' To Rain No More." To portray the end of the rain the band formed into a huge rainbow and when the field lights went out the band lights came on in the various rainbow colors. It was really a beautiful picture with the band playing "Over the Rainbow." That was the end of the weather forecast and the band left the field in the rainbow formation playing "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows."

Add to this the fine dancing, baton and flag twirling of the twelve majorettes and you have a complete picture of the fine show. Because of the recent illness of their volunteer coach, Mrs. Helen C. Replogle, the majorettes are going through their paces this season under the leadership of the attractive majorette-in-charge, Shirley Moraldi.

With last night's show as an indication of what's in store, we can look for some very fine band shows on Friday nights.

Seven New Soviet Vetoes Narrowly Averted By U.N.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The United Nations has narrowly escaped seven new Russian vetoes as result of the Security Council's recess today until Tuesday, when the membership applications of twelve candidates comes up again.

The 11-nation body adjourned after an all-day running battle between Russia and the Ukraine yesterday on the one hand and the Argentine and major western powers on the other.

Dr. Jose Arce of Argentina, who faced the council with applications for membership from Portugal, Transjordan, Italy, Finland, Ireland, Austria and Ceylon, fought tenaciously for a showdown vote against the reluctance of other members to incur a series of seven Soviet vetoes.

This would have stacked up the Russian score to a grand total of thirty-eight since the United Nations was founded four years ago.

Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan, chairman for September of the Security Council, called for a "cooling off period" at 6 p. m. It is probable, however, that Arce will stand pat next Tuesday on his demand for a vote and that Soviet Delegate Semen K. Tsarapkin will not do an about-face on his "all or none" admission policy.

Russian entry favorites certain to fall before western opposition are Albania, Hungary, Bulgaria, Rourania and Outer Mongolia. Neither the United States nor Great Britain intend to budge on the standpoint.

School Attendance Totals 7578 Pupils

Attendance at the New Castle public schools after the first week of classes totals 7,578, according to figures released by Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent of the city's schools.

This figure shows a rise in enrollment in the schools of 121 since the first day figures. The enrollment will continue to rise for the next several weeks but the remainder will not swell the ranks by any great amount.

Greatest changes in enrollment since the first day were in the junior high schools, Mahoning school and senior high school. Enrollment at senior high school at the end of this week totaled 1,711 pupils as compared to 1,709 last year at a comparable period.

CURRY-HARPER WEDDING

Candlelight softly illuminated the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Norma G. Curry, sister of Mrs. John Bates, Jr., of Smiley Stop, and Paul L. Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harper, Wurttemberg.

A large group of relatives and friends witnessed the couple's exchange of vows in an impressive double ring service, read at 7:30 by the Rev. A. J. Musselman, of Butler. Prior to the ceremony the guests were entertained with a recital of favorite nuptial music, with Miss Lillian Durbin of Chewton at the piano. Miss Ada Tillia, as soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and two other favorites of the bride.

Escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, Mr. Bates, the bride wore an exquisite gown of mousseline de soie, fashioned with a sheer yoke; a bertha edged with Chantilly lace and caught in scallops with seed pearl clusters, and a lavishly cut floor-length skirt, the back trimmed with a half neplum bordered with Chantilly lace. A ruffle of matching lace bordered her fingertip veil of illusion, which cascaded from a scalloped crown of seed pearls. She carried an arm sheaf of white roses and white pom poms with streamers of stephanotis.

Her sister, Miss Doris Curry of New Castle, was the maid of honor, wearing a gown of blue satin and marquisette and a floral tiara. Matching gowns in pink were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Lois Curry, of New Castle, and Miss Vera Surry, of Ellwood City, also sisters of the bride. Their bouquets were formed of pink roses with streamers of baby breath.

Manuel Harper served his brother as best man. Ushers were George Harper, also a brother of the bridegroom, and Clarence Morrow, his nephew.

Congratulations were extended to the newlyweds at a reception that followed in the church basement. Some 175 attended.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mesdames Norman Guy, George Wilson, Claire Boyer and Earl Friday. A tiered wedding cake centered the prettily appointed bridal table.

The bride donned a becoming powder blue suit and black accessories for traveling to Washington, D. C., where the couple will spend a week's honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside in a newly furnished apartment at 126 Glen avenue, Ellwood City.

The bride, who has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Bates for the past several years, was a former resident of Chewton when the Bates family resided here.

Anti-Nationalist Purge Is Begun In Yunnan Area

CANTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—China's Acting President Li Tsung-Jen today ordered the dissolution of the People's Council of Yunnan Province, apparently opening a purge of Anti-Nationalists in the strategically vital area.

For several months the council has opposed the Nationalist government's Anti-Communist campaign.

The Anti-Nationalist feeling in the province boiled over last week in the capital city of Kunming where provincial Governor Lu Han staged a bloodless coup, ousting central government officials.

Yunnan, situated in China's southeast corner, borders both French Indo-China and Burma, and lies only short distances from Thailand India and Pakistan.

Swims 11 Hours To Bring Rescue To Three Persons

FALMOUTH, Mass., Sept. 10.—(INS)—A 24-year-old boat operator swam 11 hours through choppy Atlantic waters to a Nantucket beach today and gasped out the story which resulted in the rescue of three of ten-shipwrecked persons floundering four miles at sea. Fate of several others are not immediately determined.

Russell Palmer said the vacationers were thrown into the sea when his 38-foot boat "Constance" capsized last night as it ran into a thunderstorm on the return trip from Nantucket to Falmouth.

Shortly after a coast guard plane crew radioed that it had spotted the survivors clinging to the overturned craft, a cutter hauled three of them to safety. They were floating semi-conscious in life belts.

Coast guard officials, who did not immediately identify them, said they were "in bad shape."

PLAN STORM SEWER

Streets Director James Gibson stated today that Monday he will offer a motion in city council which will ask for bids for the construction of a storm sewer from Sumner and Audley avenues to run to the ravine, which will eliminate a water nuisance at that point.

He said that the balance of the storm sewer between Norwood and Sumner avenues, will be built next year. Gibson said a lack of funds will prevent the latter portion of the construction this year.

Overheated Stove Causes Small Fire

Firemen were called to the Pannella Company, 400 South Jefferson street, at 8:20 p. m., Friday evening when an overheated stove in a watchman's shanty, set fire to the structure, and threatened a nearby pile of lumber. Damage of about $20 was caused. Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink reported. Through a mistake, Box 54 was sounded for the fire, calling several of the companies to Mill and Homer street. At 8:45 p. m., smoke was found in the office of the Fombell Coal Company, rear 400 East Washington street, but Fourth ward firemen, who answered the call found it was only due to the stove smoking.

Slander Suit For $100,000 Against Elizabeth Bentley

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(INS)—A $100,000 slander suit was on file today in federal court brought by William W. Remington, commerce department economist, against Elizabeth Bentley, former Communist.

The suit is based on a television broadcast of "Meet the Press" on Sept. 12, 1948, in which Miss Bentley allegedly made remarks which were "intended and did convey the meaning that Remington was and is a member of the Communist party while in the employ of the United States, contrary to the laws of the United States."

Remington was later cleared by a loyalty review board and reinstated in his commerce department job.

TO THE VOTERS OF
LAWRENCE COUNTY

Owing to the duties of this office it has been physically impossible to see many of you.

I have served as your Sheriff for three years and eight months. You have had ample opportunity to know whether the office has been managed in an honest and efficient manner. We have certain duties to perform in the office which must be carried out. This has been done without fear or favor to race, creed or color. We are all Americans.

Four years ago the voters of this commonwealth made it possible for a Sheriff to succeed himself and put the office on the same footing as other offices in this respect.

If you think my conduct in office and service to you has been good, I respectfully solicit your vote at the primaries on September 13.

Your school board is one of the most important bodies in the government. The New Castle school budget for the current year is over $1,800,000.

Such expenditures require business judgment along with a sincere regard for the efficiency of our schools.

As a former school teacher I know something of the problem of the class room. As a business woman for many years I know the importance of raising and spending money carefully.

I am a candidate for one of the three Republican nominations for the full term as school director. I will appreciate your vote.

President Has New Problem

What To Do With 'Innards' That Come Out Of White House In Remodeling

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—President Truman is confronted today with a White House problem that promises as much trouble as construction of his balcony, which he never got to use.

The question that is tying solemn White House advisers into mental knots is what to do with the "innards" that will come out of the national shrine when the work of reconstruction begins.

Souvenir hunters have besieged the presidential office by letters pleading for historic mementoes of the executive mansion.

Some want just one of the hand made nails—of which there are barrels full in the woodwork of the old edifice—or a length of oak beam from which they can handcraft bookends. They ask for a wooden gavel, or some other object; or even one of the bricks of the walls which are still charred from the fire the British Redcoats set in the War of 1812, when they gutted the mansion by torch.

Some collectors would like a whole section of the century and a half old huge oak beams to make into pieces of furniture.

The more commercial-minded would like to offer the government bids for all the beams, wooden floors, lead plumbing and brick rubble that come out of the interior to set up in the souvenir business.

Letters have poured into the White House during the past few months appealing for such mementoes.

This is one time that the President has decided he won't be the man on the spot.

In the first place, the question was raised by a congressional committee on whether the rickety old mansion shouldn't be torn down entirely and replaced with a completely new executive mansion.

When this happened, the President, who felt that the exterior walls and interior furnishings at least should be preserved, promptly suggested appointment of a committee representing both the Congress and the White House to thresh out that problem.

The committee, after lengthy deliberation, decided that the exterior of the White House should be preserved as a national monument, and only the interior and foundations reconstructed.

That one out of the way, it looked like clear sailing.

The Congress appropriated the $5,400,000 needed for reconstruction.

Then the clamor of souvenir hunters began. Couldn't they have just a nail, a beam or one of the bricks.

But legislation already had taken care of that contingency—partly. The act stipulated that no commercialization could be made of the material taken from the White House.

Civilization Not To Minks' Liking

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Glenn Anderson of suburban Eastlake and his 300 minks just about ready to pack up and move on. Civilization is too much for them.

According to the 29-year-old mink-raiser, civilization in the form of auto horns, barking dogs and laughing children is fast making their present home a nightmare—both to the nervous high-strung minks and to himself.

Anderson contends that the minks can't abide heat and that noise literally can frighten them to death. This could be practically catastrophic, he explains, since his charges are worth from $15 to $80 each.

In order to keep his expensive animals in mink-type comfort, Anderson hopes to find a 30 to 40-acre farm in some secluded section of nearby Lake County where they all can live in peace.

"FIRST YEAR MEN" AT GENEVA

The two "first year men" shown above appear quite interested in Geneva college's 1949 football schedule. Considering that their fathers are Geneva coaches Walt West and Cliff Aultman, their concern is understandable.

Johnny Aultman (left), who was one year old in May, seems a bit worried as he studies the assortment of schedule cards on his lap. Could he be awed by the number of games, 10, greatest in 16 years at the Beaver Falls school.

Jimmy West, on the other hand, regards the matter a little more lightly. It's possible that the youngster, who'll celebrate his first birthday in October, has heard about Geneva's special season ticket set plan that allows football fans to see six games for the price of four. Incidentally, the pre-season offer expires Thursday.

Standing above their children are Miriam Hood Aultman, a former Rochester resident, and Barbara Lee Stewart West, formerly of Leechburg. Jimmy is the West's only child, but the Aultman's are also parents of Bill, 11, and Biff, 9.

Both women are football fans too. And while their husbands are busy teaching the gridders the plays, positions and fundamentals, they're tackling a problem of their own—finding suitable baby sitters for game nights.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(INS)—To expose the right ear is to err against hat fashion this fall.

Paris and New York millinery is side tilted, engulfing the right ear. It is also tall, narrow-brimmed and lightly trimmed.

Original Paris creations, shown in New York by American Designer G. Howard Hodge, feature the side tilt, as the most important trend for fall and winter. Paris Designer Claude St. Cyr's straight-on-the-head cloche with a high-peaked brim was the only variation.

New York designers are following the trend.

So fashionable women will be definitely half-cocked all winter!

It has been noticed that the children of French, German and British parents who emigrated to this country grow slightly taller than their parents.

GOVERNMENT IS YOUR BUSINESS

Operating a government, city, county, state or national is a business, your business. As a taxpayer you pay for it, you have a right to know it is run economically. When you employ someone to act for you in the operation of your government you have a right to know what he has done, what he will do, and what his background for the job is.

As a city councilman I have conducted the department of which I am the director with as much care as though the money spent were my own. Acting with the other three councilmen and the mayor we have operated the government of New Castle economically. Like your own personal costs, government costs have risen. This means more taxes, just as your own personal budget has needed more income for added expenses.

No one likes taxes, but if you are to finance your government, taxes are necessary. In imposing taxes we have tried to place the burden impartially, so that no one would bear an undue share.

To solicit votes for any office by simply being opposed to something is to beg the issue. In my service as councilman, I have tried to approach every problem with a positive and a constructive view. The record is written for all to see.

I believe in New Castle and in the people who are New Castle. On Tuesday they will select their candidates for office. I ask the vote of Republican voters as a nominee for city council.

To those friends who have supported me so loyally in this campaign I express my appreciation.

ERROL FULLERTON — FOR — DISTRICT ATTORNEY

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF LAWRENCE COUNTY:

As your present Assistant District Attorney, I come to you seeking promotion to the office of District Attorney after several years of apprenticeship for the position. If you see fit to promote me from Assistant to District Attorney, I will carry on the office with the same efficiency and courtesy to which the people now have become accustomed.

I believe that a District Attorney should discharge, in good conscience, the obligations of his office with a view to what is fair, just and right; and should keep ever before him that sacred guarantee of our constitution to every man, woman and child, that "right and justice shall be administered without sale, denial or delay" in this Commonwealth and County.

ERROL FULLERTON (REPUBLICAN)

I wish to publicly thank the people of this county for the understanding and enthusiasm accorded my campaign. The hearty reception received, together with the generous assurances of the voters everywhere, make it possible to look forward to next Tuesday with full confidence of success.

It has been impossible for me to see all the voters of Lawrence County, much as I would like to have done so. I ask you to consider this appeal as personal and true. If you will cast your valuable vote for me, remembering that every vote counts, I will be profoundly grateful to you.

Yours very truly,

Fans Applaud And Cheer; Football Reigns Again

Once again in the world of sports, football takes the limelight to reign as "king", in New Castle.

A full half-hour before game time, the grandstands are full. The air is permeated with excitement as the audience eagerly waits for the approaching conflict between the two teams. Running, passing, tackling, all mixed with eager shouts of an excited crowd, and then an early touchdown. The crowd goes wild! People stand in their seats, hit their neighbors, and scream themselves hoarse. Why? What makes people get so excited over a mere game? It's the idea of showing their spirit for the home team, and sincerely wanting a victory.

Half time. The moon seems to be wanting to get in on the excitement too, for he can be seen peeping over the grandstand. Out onto the field parades the band. High-steppin' majorettes lead the way, twirling their batons with an ease that seems unbelievable. A story is told with their music. To a spirited march, the band makes its exit.

Again the Kickoff

Again the kick-off. Around you people are making bets as to what team will eventually win the game. Small arguments ensue. Friends become "friendly enemies". The big question remains—who will beat the other team and win the game?

Another touchdown, and still another. Each one backed by screams and shouts of the cheerleaders and spectators. Three minutes to play, two, and finally only one. Even with a sure victory, the crowd continues to show excitement. And then, the game is over. The home team is the victor.

A happy crowd of people, still talking over the recent conflict, make their way out of the stadium, to go to their respective homes. Likely they'll attend a game next week.

What remains after the last person has left the grandstand? A not-so-velvety field, paper-littered stands, and darkness. But still the excitement is there, and the field itself knows that every week, in the fall, every year, for many years to come, she will witness just such a game that has taken place. "King football" has taken his position in the spotlight once again.

Our best friend and severest critic, Horatius Q. McGivelry, (of the Spring Hill McGivelry's) dropped in this morning for a few words and the loan of a pipeful.

"Come Tuesday and it's primary day" said Mr. McG. "Voting is a jooty ivryone should discharge. Me, I'm an old time Republicrat and I vote'er straight. But let them as belong to another party vote their way. I eat as I please and I vote as I please, all I say is, folks ought to vote. "And finally" (says Mr. McG.) "don't ever let anyone tell you how to vote. That goes for preachers, priests, and politicians, bankers, barbers and bricklayers, big shots and little shots and in between shots.

SIXTH PLACE on the BALLOT

When you mark your Republican ballot next Tuesday you will find my name the sixth on your ballot. You may vote for two candidates. I would appreciate one of those two votes.

Since I have been in city council I have headed the street department. We have been unable to do everything we would have liked, but we have insisted upon a dollar's worth of return for every dollar expended.

As a business man I have conducted your affairs in city council in a business like manner. Every dollar allotted to the street department has been spent economically. It is a fair statement to say that New Castle streets are better kept than many of the cities in this section of the state.

With your help on Tuesday I will be able to continue to develop the street program we have set up since materials and equipment have been easier to secure.

I ask you to mark that sixth place on the Republican council ballot next Tuesday.

Thank you.

HANEY'S NOW HAVE FAMOUS "IRONRITE"

FACTORY DEMONSTRATOR WILL BE HERE MONDAY

"Ironrite helped smooth out the kinks in my back"

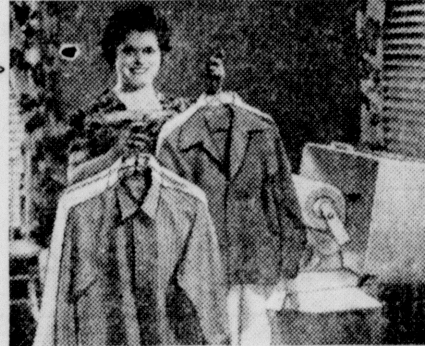

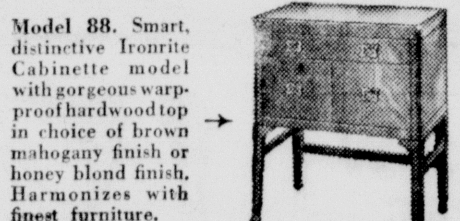

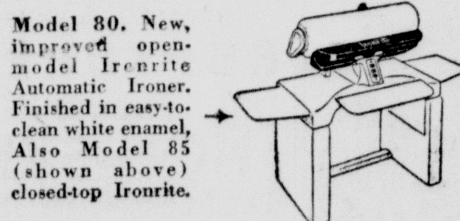

says Mrs. Basil Woodward
4193 Biddle Avenue
Wayne, Michigan

1. "I can recommend Ironrite to any woman who wants to end the back-breaking drudgery of hand ironing."

"Not long ago I had a major spinal operation. My doctor advised a whole year of rest from hard work like hand ironing. But with the big washings and ironings to be done in my family, that was impossible. So my husband bought me a washer and an Ironrite Automatic Ironer."

"I still have to take it easy 5 or 6 hours a day, but when I sit down and iron at my Ironrite, I completely relax. Everything's just right for comfort; there's no stretching, no strain."

"Believe me, Ironrite has helped smooth out the kinks in my back. If you value your health, and appearance, too—see an Ironrite dealer today. Ask him to demonstrate the Ironrite for you."

2. "With 21 shirts to iron each week, hand ironing would be absolutely out of the question for me. But with my Ironrite, I can iron a whole week's wash in practically no time."

NAACP To Have Program Sunday

Interesting Program Arranged With Rev. McClendon As Speaker

Rev. J. R. McClendon, former army officer, and professor of languages at West Virginia State college, will be the principal speaker at the mass meeting of the New Castle branch of the NAACP in the Second Baptist church Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

There will be special music by the junior choir and in addition there will be a skit, "And No One Asked," by a group from the choir under the direction of Miss Corinne Garside, with Miss Della Kiser at the piano.

Delegates to the state conference of branches, which will take place at Media, Pa., October 7-9, will be elected at Sunday's meeting.

Membership chairman William Wooten states that the membership campaign this year is below the quota assigned, and a special effort will be made to have all dues in before October.

More people in New York City are employed in the making of dresses and associated fashion jobs than in any other single gainful pursuit.

Conduct Funerals Of Murder Victims

Series Of Funerals Being Held For Victims Shot Down In Camden Massacre

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 10.—(INS)—A hollow funeral dirge continued to sound in Camden today for the burial of six more of the ill-fated 13 whose lives were snuffed out by the mad gunfire of Howard B. Unruh last Tuesday.

Three victims of the "Camden Killer" were buried yesterday, private rites are being made for another, and the remaining three will be buried Monday.

Meanwhile, Unruh's mother, who for four days following the massacre was left virtually speechless, disclosed she too almost became one of her son's victims.

Mrs. Unruh said her son came toward her with a "black wrench" the morning of the slayings, and she dashed out of the house. She collapsed at a neighbor's home when she heard gunfire shortly after.

"I knew it was Howard shooting," she said.

Unruh is now undergoing a series of psychiatric tests at New Jersey State Mental hospital in Trenton, to determine whether he is sane.

However, Camden County Prosecutor Mitchell H. Cohen said he is preparing a first degree murder case to send the gaunt killer to the electric chair if he is decreed sane.

SIMPLE SOLUTION

BINGHAMTON, N. Y.—Mrs. John H. Shade complained to police that a neighbor's light was keeping her awake. Police investigated, found the neighbor was "scared of the dark," and suggested Mrs. Shade escape the light by pulling down her window shade.

Bible School Votes Hammond's $500 For Passage To Bolivia

First Baptist Sunday school voted to give $500 to Rev. and Mrs. William Hammond on Friday evening as portion of their return fare to the mission field of Bolivia S. A.

The unprecedented action of the Sunday school came as a part of the campaign that is being conducted in the church to raise $2,000 to send the Hammonds back to their missionary duties in South America. The action raises one-fourth of the sum needed to aid the family to return to their field of endeavor.

The church was instrumental in bringing Rev. and Mrs. Hammond and family home to the States last year, and now that their sabbatical leave is completed they will leave early in October to resume their mission work in Bolivia. The family resided in the East for several months while Mrs. Hammond underwent medical treatment, but for the past few months have been residing in the county.

The "Send the Hammonds Back to Bolivia" campaign will continue in the church until the entire $2,000 is raised. Other organizations and groups in the church will aid in raising the funds needed.

The decision to give the first $500 to the family came at a meeting of the Sunday school teachers and officers conducted Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mont Rogers, Willow Brook road. Superintendent Robert McCann was in charge.

Mother Saves Her Son's Life

WENDELL, Ida, Sept. 10.—(INS)—A mother's thumb held over the pierced jugular vein of her six-year-old son during a speeding 16-mile automobile ride was credited today with saving the youngster's life.

Mrs. Lester Stubbs, of Richfield, Ida., grasped the neck of her son, Fay, and held her thumb over the wound while her husband drove the car on a wild ride for first aid at Shoshone.

The lad had fallen on a stick while playing at his ranch home near Richfield.

After emergency treatment the boy was taken to a Wendell hospital where physicians said the mother "did her job well." There was no sign of infection or complications. Fay was scheduled to return home today.

Pittsburgh Sells Unclaimed Autos

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10.—(INS)—The City of Pittsburgh went into the auto selling business—and was very reasonable, too.

Automobiles were sold at prices ranging from $15 to $105. Some 45 wrecks and near wrecks were sold in an effort to clean up the city pound. The trucks and cars had been towed away by the city at one time or another, and were never reclaimed.

Jacob Ours of New Brighton, bought the $105 truck—a 1940 model—at the auction. He figured the body alone is worth $150.

Ralph Shooster, 24, of Pittsburgh made a final $25 bid on the 1936 jalopy. He said he needed the windshield for his car. After examining his purchase, he found the tires were in good shape and figured the purchase was "a good deal."

"I'll do something with the engine," he said, "maybe put it in a garden tractor."

Anyway, the city collected $1,620 from the sales.

Ether Determines Presence Of Life

PARIS — (INS) — The French Academy of Medicine has described a new technique for determining instantaneously whether a person is dead or alive.

The method consists in making a sub-cutaneous injection of 1 or 2 cubic centimeter of ether. If the patient is dead the ether squirts out of the body as soon as the needle is removed. If there is the slightest spark of life in the patient, the ether remains in the tissues.

Air transportation is being used for the first time by the 1949 Detroit Lions football squad in the team's 16-year-history in the National Football League. The Lions will fly more than 16,000 miles playing 12 league games and six exhibition tilts.

WHO SUBSIDIZES WHO IN TRANSPORTATION?

Critics of motor truck transportation never suggest that it isn't the best way, the quickest way, the efficient way to transport merchandise.

Usually they fall back upon that old chromo, "motor trucks are subsidized."

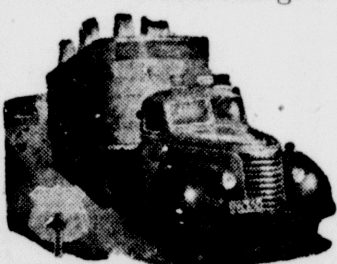

Isn't it fair to ask "by whom"?

Motor trucks are taxed heavily for the right to operate over the highways. In 1949 motor trucks will pay into the Pennsylvania highway fund nearly forty million dollars in special taxes and these aside from the personal motor taxes the owners and employees pay.

The motor truck industry has never been given sections of land by the government, no city, state or national administration ever made grants of money to induce it to come in.

Motor truck transportation was born of necessity, demanded by public that wants speed and efficiency in transportation. The industry was started by young men who saw a need and in that need a livelihood, and they pay their way.

The charge of subsidy sounds a little ridiculous, doesn't it?

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB
(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—If the children of the French village of Maille dreamed what Yuletide treats are in store for them, not a child would close his eyes between now and Christmas.

Last Christmas, the American Godfathers of Maille bestowed upon the children a marvelous American invention, something called a "beanie," with a windmill on top of each that spun like a dervish in the slightest breeze.

Ah, that beanie! It made the children of Maille the envy of the district.

But this year! Well, this Christmas the children of Maille will receive from their Godfathers, Mr. and Mrs. Girard Van Barkaloo Hale of Santa Barbara, Calif., a gift that will make the beanie a mere nothing.

For the Hales, who are now en route to France, did their Christmas shopping early in New York before they sailed. And among their purchases were those new hats equipped with a small radio receiving set that will enable every child in Maille to hear the French equivalent of "Buck Rogers" and "Hi-Lo, Silver" as they race through the village streets.

Completed Shopping
The Hales, a merry, energetic couple, paused in New York to complete their Christmas shopping for Maille, a village of 375 persons, before sailing.

"We try to give every child a useful present, another gift to play with and something good to eat," Mrs. Hale explained in her hotel suite as she juggled orders for hundreds of pounds of candy, bolts of hair ribbons and pretty scarves by the gross.

Mr. Hale, a widely known mural artist, and his red-headed Irish wife adopted the French village in 1946 when they heard its terrible history from a friend, Maille, whose inhabitants had committed the unspeakable crime of collaborating with the Allies, was condemned to be the French Lidice.

Stopped by Americans

The Germans killed 124 of its populace before American bombers unaware of the massacre but seeing a concentration of German troops in nearby fields, stopped the slaughter by inadvertence.

Every family lost at least one member. And the village itself was almost totally destroyed. When the Hales adopted the village in 1946, hope and morale were at their lowest ebb.

"We did not rebuild the village house by house," Kathleen Burke Hale explained, "but we did rebuild its spirit."

Maille's will to live began with such bare creature comforts as shoes. Within two months after the Hales adopted Maille, this spirited couple had twelve tons of goods on the dock at Le Havre destined to feed, clothe and comfort Maille.

Many Benefactors

In the ensuing years, the Hale benefactors have included everything from funeral curtains for the rebuilt church to a new library for the reconstructed school; from a tractor and all accessories to fishing poles.

Maille, an agricultural community, with the aid of its tractor and its own hard work is now able to feed itself. The Hales forgot nothing, not even seeds for the village gardens.

Residents of other villages came from miles around to admire Maille's electric irons, its miraculous American washing machines, its electric sewing machines, and miracle of miracles, its new electric stoves in every house in the whole village!

The whole village will be en fête on October 24, the anniversary of Mrs. Hale's birth. She has promised to spend the day at Maille and the whole village rocks with plans and surprises for a civic celebration.

Will Rock More

It will rock even more—perhaps to its very foundations—when it discovers the Hales are busy preparing to take all the kids of Maille to spend a day in Paris!

"Tens! Will miracles never cease! These Americans plan to rent buses and pack all the kids up to Paris, only two and a half hours distant, for a day! Why, most residents of Maille live and die there, and never get to Paris. And now that the village is back on its feet, what are the Hales planning to do? That's simple: They're looking forward to seeing that the bright youngsters of Maille have good educations. They plan scholarships at French universities.

The brains and the character are native," say the Hales. "We only hope to provide the education."

Life Prison Term For Wife Slayer

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Walter Gala, 24-year-old navy veteran, was given life imprisonment Friday after admitting he shot his wife to death in a Frankford rooming house.

Gala, who pleaded guilty, told a three-judge panel taking testimony in the case that the slaying of his 22-year-old wife, Ruth, was "not premeditated."

Gala testified: "I don't know why I did it. I had no intention of shooting my wife."

The court declined to impose the death penalty because of the "emotional makeup" of Gala, who was termed a "constitutional psychopathic inferior" by psychiatrists.

WHAT FASCINATES A MAN

Recently I read the following words of wisdom which impressed me deeply: "It isn't what a girl does that fascinates a man—it's what she won't do."

Remember that, girls, when you are on your next date. Men are not infatuated with girls who drink too much. They thus lose their mystery as well as their mental and physical equilibrium. The promiscuous pettee who thinks this "art" is what makes her popular will soon find her popularity waning when the boys begin to discuss her among themselves and compare notes—an established masculine habit.

The girl who keeps her distance and her dignity can have lasting popularity. She who makes a habit of telephoning boys and thus angling for dates may get her man during one of his weak moments; but he will forever remember that she "ran after" him, and probably twist her about it eventually.

Without being aloof or unfriendly, maintain a slightly indifferent attitude. By that I mean—don't act as if a date is a matter of the greatest importance to you. The girl who appears the least anxious for attention usually gets the most of it.

Question: Margaret Mary Brown dropped the "Margaret" when she was a child. Recently she married James Smith. Now she signs her name Mary Brown Smith. She has been told that this signature is not legal—that she should sign her name Margaret Mary Smith. Which is correct?

Answer: It is perfectly permissible to drop part of one's name. So there is nothing illegal about the signature Mary Brown Smith. Most married women retain their maiden name or initial, as Mary Brown Smith has done.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

MAN MADE PORT

HOUSTON—A man-made shipping channel 50 miles long, connecting Houston with the Gulf of Mexico, is responsible for the city being a major U. S. deep-sea port.

THE FACTS ABOUT CITY FINANCES

A question has been asked about the adequacy of the Main Sewer System in New Castle. That system, extending from Washington street to South Cedar street was designed and built about 1886, when New Castle had about 10,000 inhabitants. It is now entirely inadequate and has been for twenty years. Twenty years ago there was submitted to the vote of the people the question of financing the rebuilding of that Sewer System according to a modern and complete plan, but the question was voted down by the electorate. Nothing was done, until the present Council resurrected the old plans and began the reconstruction. That work is about half finished with a large and thoroughly adequate main sewer completed from the Disposal Plant to a point near the Big Run.

The present Council, if permitted to do so, expects to complete that main sewer reconstruction in the next two years.

It has been said that the Council levied a Wage Tax blindly. That is not correct. The Council held up the Wage Tax Levy Ordinance until a complete survey was made by Dr. H. F. Alderfer, Executive Secretary of the Institute of Local Government at Penn State College, securing as nearly as possible the amount of tax that a 10 mill levy would yield in 1949. The amount estimated and the amount actually being collected have not varied more than $2,000.00 in the first half of 1949.

The financial situation of the City is working out pretty much as expected. Now recurrent capital expenditures for new fire equipment, new garbage collection, new street equipment, etc.; having been taken care of, the City is now in a position where the wage tax will be reduced from 10 to 6 mills January 1, 1950. The wisdom of the action of Council becomes more apparent every day. The reduction mentioned above will permit the School Board to levy up to 4 mills for school purposes and eliminate the necessity to levy some form of Sales, Amusement tax or some other equal unscientific tax.

The firemen, policemen, and other employees of the City are far from being over-paid. The financial problem of the City will not be solved by the type of person who votes for all appropriations and votes against all taxes.

No city employee is included in Federal Social Security. Two years ago, the Legislature enacted a pension law for all City Employees, who had no such benefits. The City Council, as then constituted, adopted that Act. I was a member of Council then and if I live long enough and work for the City long enough, I may benefit by the Act. Certainly I contribute every pay day to the fund. The only question here, is—do you believe in Pensions for all people who work?

New Castle Trounces Erie Tech 19-0 In Grid Inaugural

Latsko And Wallace Provide Touchdowns

New Castle Senior High football team overpowered Erie Tech 19-0 in the inaugural of the 1949 football campaign last night at Taggart Stadium.

Opening game jitters and miscues prevailed on both sides as nearly 11,000 fans saw the Red Hurricane drive for three scores on the ground and tighten its defenses near the goal line to halt tricky Tech offensive threats.

Latsko-Wallace Score

Fullback Ray Latsko hit paydirt for two of the Cane scores and his substitute Bo Wallace bucked for the third TD. Dick Lewis converted one of three placement attempts.

Line play of the Red and Black was responsible for the first score in the opening minutes of the game.

Recover Fumble—Score

Erie picked up a first down on its own 43 after taking Mancine's opening kickoff. Mike Banko and Mancine swarmed on a loose pigskin as Jasinski fumbled on a first down line buck. Seven plays later Latsko plunged three yards over the final chalk stripe. A Tech off-side penalty had given the local eleven its first gain of the season and a first and five on the Tech 35. Roussos made one on a hand-off into the line and Latskos' second down pass attempt was blocked. "Big Jaw" then ripped through right tackle for a first down on the Erie 28. Altman picked up one on a try at the line and Latsko broke into the open over right guard for 21 yards and a first down on the six. Two tries at the line by the big junior fullback netted six points.

Dick Lewis' placement attempt, with Sansone holding, was wide of the goal posts. The defending Double A champions had scored in the first five minutes of play and the first time they were on offense this season.

Fumbles by Latsko and Roussos plus a poor kick by Latsko kept New Castle in its own territory for the remainder of the first half. Tech's threat was halted by Bill Pabst's interception of Peck's pass on the New Castle 12.

Coach Bridenbaugh apparently had more than a fire in the locker room stove during half time. The Cane drove for one TD after taking the second half kickoff and scored a second midway in the third period.

Jimmy Altman, probably the best running back on the field, returned Tech's kick 34 yards to the New Castle 44. Latsko's try at the line and an offside penalty gave the scarlet power boys a first down on the Erie 46. Altman, running from the wing back spot this time, took a handoff from Latsko and sped around left end for 26 yards and another first on the 20. Latsko picked up 13 on a single try at the line and bowled over center two plays later from the five. Lewis' conversion split the uprisings.

After Erie took the ensuing kickoff, Latsko intercepted Peck's third down pass attempt on the fifty and returned it to the Erie 39. Altman circled right end for eight on second down and Wallace made it a first down on the 29.

Wallace picked up one on a try at center and then Jim Altman took off on the most spectacular run of the evening. The colored speedster took a reverse from Wallace, circled wide around left end, then dodged and, weaved mostly on his own, down the sidelines for 20 yards before being knocked out of bounds on the one. Wallace bucked into the line for the score on the next play.

Just as fast as the local eleven had caught fire in the early minutes of the period, its offensive power bogged down for the rest of the game and netted only one first down, while the tricky Erie offense threatened to score and racked up four first downs in the process.

DiNunzio returned the kickoff 27 yards to the Erie 37. Peck raced to the New Castle 49 after taking a double handoff. Dick and Jim Altman pulled down Zabrosky, Erie's big end, after he had taken a pass from Peck on the 30 and romped to the 10. After Josinski made two at the line, three successive pass plays failed and New Castle took over.

Sanson kicked out of danger to the 37 and Erie came storming back at the Red and Black goal as the last quarter opened. After a running and passing play, gave the visitors another first down on the seven, but Pabst intercepted Peck's fourth down pass on the goal line and returned it to the six to end the threat. Altman made a first down around right end as the crowd started filing from the stands. Sansone kicked to the 47 and three tricky Erie scoring plays failed. New Castle was in possession on the Erie 41 as the game ended.

Line Play Features

New Castle's line play was the outstanding feature offensively and defensively of the contest. The big boys up front opened large holes continuously between the tackles on the scoring drives and the ends broke up several Erie offensive maneuvers before they got well underway.

Dick Burr and Danny DeFalco, substituting for Bucky Tate, did yeoman duty in the center of the line.

For a moment it looked as if the Admiral was going to topple over and Charlie had all he could do to keep in the saddle. But the great War Admiral didn't topple... he wasn't finished. He was furious. Another contender, Flying Scot was already in the lead and that was where War Admiral belonged. He flew down the track, overtook Flying Scot, breezed right on past and with blood streaming from the great gash in his front leg, he won the gruelling one and a half mile race, breaking the 17 year track record by one-fifth of a second. His time was 2:28 3/5 seconds.

The Admiral was entitled to "pull" his rank that day.

Union Opens '49 Season Tonight With Darlington

Game To Be Played Under The Lights At Union High Field At 8 O'Clock

Union high school's 1949 football team will be unveiled tonight under the lights at Union high field at 8 o'clock with Darlington high providing the opposition.

A lot of question marks surround this year's team, which includes six first stringers from last year's team which won only one game, had one tie and suffered six defeats.

Head Coach Jack Schantz, in his first year of coaching, has a veteran squad but one that is a little lacking on the beef department. Only center Len Fowler goes over the 200-pound mark.

Coaches and observers alike are reserving comments on the chances of the team in county circles this year until they've seen them in action. One thing is certain and that is that the boys will be putting out all the way.

Starting Line-Up

Starting lineup will probably show Kenny Kendra at left end and Ronnie May at the other end of the line. Don Passeretti and Anthony Phillips are slated for the guard positions.

For end replacements Schantz and assistant Soc's Roussos have Ken McPheeters, John Young, and Ed Gorgacz. At tackle are Mike Lawrence and Don Wingfield with John Winkler at guard and Dick Farrington at center.

Punting By Hetrick

Hetrick will probably be done by Hetrick with Ronnie May around if needed. Barber or Presnar will do the kicking off with Presnar kicking the extra points.

Hetrick and Wolfbrandt will take care of most of the passing assignments.

The team will be in full force except for injuries to Dick Farrington and Frank Presnar in practice sessions. The team was also hit hard by the loss of Carm DeLeone through ineligibility.

Darlington comes to Union with a very poor 1948 season behind them but with hopes for a brighter one this year. Last year's card showed no wins and six setbacks.

Indies Playing Akron Tonight

City Loop Champs Will Meet Akron At Oakland Field, Shelar To Pitch

Tonight at 8 o'clock at the Oakland Field in Youngstown the city league championship Lawrence Indies will play their first game in the annual NABF tourney, meeting the Akron Smith-Sheriffs.

Manager Hoss Zidow has selected Wayne Shelar to hurl, against the Ohioans, who will probably counter with Lefty Heinerman, a hurler who has an excellent record this year.

Indies Confident

Last year the Universal Pottery team represented the City baseball league in the NABF and lost in the quarter-finals to the 1947 championship Cleveland Bartu-neks.

Just who the Indies will play Sunday will not be known until after the game tonight. The Indies are entering the National tourney with plenty of confidence.

Local Rifle Club To Elect Officers

Annual meeting and election of officers of the New Castle Rifle club will be held Monday evening, September 12 at 8 p. m., at the home of the club secretary, Paul Carrigan, 716 County Line street. All members are urged to attend.

In the 1948-49 season, the club was successful in winning both the Inter-State League championship and also the Pennsylvania State Gallery championship.

Among the 110 teams, throughout the United States, who fired for the national gallery title, the local club placed ninth.

Wildcats Succumb To Mustangs Long Runs In Opener At Mercer Friday Night

A small, inexperienced Shenango football team dropped its opening game of the 1949 season at Mercer Friday night. The final score of the close contest was 20 to 7.

Mercer scored early in the contest before the Wildcats had recovered from pre-kickoff jitters. McWhirter skirted the flank on an end around play for 15 yards and six points. McElrath place kicked the extra point.

Ringer stoved the game in the Mustangs' saddle bag in the third period with two long touchdown dashes. The star Mercer back scampered 50 and 75 yards for a pair of clinching TDs.

Shenango Scores

Throughout the second half Shenango drove on the ground for consistent gains but didn't have it as they approached the goal line. Wayne Arnold blocked a Mercer punt for Shenango's only score, after the Blues and Gold had driven to the Mercer 2. Arnold fell on the pigskin and Johnny Allen added the point on a plunge.

McCowan and Allen carried the brunt of the Shenango attack and showed up well against a big veteran Mercer line.

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 10.—(INS)—It's three down and one to go for Johnstown today in the Middle Atlantic League championship playoffs.

On the other hand, Erie must win four straight to take the title. Johnstown, which finished first in the first half of the split season, made it three in a row over the Sailors last night, with a 4 to 2 triumph at Erie. An error—one of three for the Sailors—enabled the winning runs to score in the sixth inning.

A lot of stars, including Naples, DeGennaro, DeVitto, Pia, N. Ross, Mazzeri, Fornataro, Forconi, Ted Turco, Mooney, Cople brothers and Moraldi brothers, will see action.

Bessemer Blasts George Junior 25-0

Cementers Score In Every Period To Keep Unbeaten String In Tact At Grove City

Bessemer got its 1949 football season underway in auspicious fashion Friday afternoon at Grove City by downing George Junior Republic 25 to 0.

The Cementers were undefeated last season and the power showed in yesterday's debut marks them as another strong contender for county and tri-county honors.

Will Ciccone's boys converted first on a pass play from Mooney Schaville to August Anderson that covered fifteen yards. Schaville and Angelo Pezzuolo set up the score with a series of line gains that started from the Bessemer 35.

Schaville Stars

Russ Cracraft recovered a Republic fumble on the George Junior 45 to set up the second score. Schaville again bore the brunt of the ground gains and Pezzuolo bucked over from the seven for the TD. Schaville converted from placement. The Cementers drove 55 yards for their third score. Schaville plunged center from the nine for the TD.

Another Schaville run of 40 yards was called back in the same period because of a holding penalty. However, the combination halfback and fullback netted his second score in the final stanza on a 15-yard jump around end.

Veteran Tom Shulaga was the outstanding lineman on the field. The Bessemer stalwart was the key defenseman and threw sound blocks for the Cementers backs. Schaville and Angelo Pezzuolo, in his first game, were consistent ground gainers.

Bessemer meets a tough Evans City team next weekend at Evans City.

League Leaders Find Friday Very Bad Day

By CHARLES EINHORN (International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—A fit subject for Congressional inquiry are the Pittsburgh Pirates, whose capacity for giving things away, notably ball games, would put Kidd to shame.

Chosen by all sorts of learned people to win the National League pennant in 1949, the Forbes fielders are instead, today, stone cold dead in the market and a fair-to-medium bet to finish utterly last.

Specifically, the men of Billy Meyer are a fast-dropping sixth at present, two games ahead of seventh-place Cincinnati and six and a half up on eighth-place Chicago, both of whom won last night.

Cardinals Lose

The Cubs dealt directly with the Pirates, handing them their 12th loss in their last 13 starts, 8 to 1. The Redlegs, more importantly in terms of the front end of the race, stuffed one down the throats of the St. Louis Cardinals, the league-leaders, 6 to 1.

What had been a neat pitchers' struggle between the Giants' Dave Koslo and the Dodgers' Preacher Roe turned abysmal in the top of the seventh, when Bobby Thompson and Hank Thompson each hit two-run homers in the course of a six-run Giant spurge, New York won it, 10 to 1.

Indians Win

The Cleveland Indians, delighted beyond measure to escape the talons of the onrushing Detroit Tigers, hustled over to St. Louis where they bought a 5-to-2 victory from the Browns, back of Mike Garcia, to assume a half-game lead on the idle Detroiters in the matter of third place.

As things stand in the American League race now, following Boston's 7-1 stoppage of the first place Yanks yesterday, the New Yorkers are a game and a half in front of Boston, five ahead of Cleveland and five and a half up on Detroit.

Kiner Hits 44th

The Philadelphia A's are out of it, 14 games back, but that doesn't stop them from beating Washington. They did it again last night, this time 5 to 2.

The best pitching and the most important single hitting feat of yesterday's play both belonged to the Cubs-Pirates game, however. Walt Dubiel, the Cubs' wintertime acquisition from Philadelphia, threw a three-hitter at the Pittsburghers. The third hit, which came in the ninth inning, was a home run—Ralph Kiner's; his 44th of the season.

WPIAL Gridders Open 1949 Cards

Duquesne Stuns New Kensington 27-0, Har-Brack Crushes Sharon 31-6
(By International News Service)

Another high school football season is under way today, and the first night's play furnished both the usual and unusual.

New Castle, the WPIAL champ last fall, picked up where it left off, beating Erie 19-0 last night. But some of the other inter-scholastic powers didn't fare so well.

Braddock, for example, was upset 6 to 0 by Redstone and Muncie had a score before edging German township 20 to 14.

Dukes Win 27-0
Possibly the most significant result of the evening, however, was Duquesne's 27 to 0 triumph over New Kensington. The Alumininum City eleven apparently misses Willie Thrower more than anyone realized—or else Duquesne has a powerhouse.

The more low-lidded scores featured Alliquippa 63 to 0 over Mountaintown, W. Va., and Ambridge 54 to 0 over St. Justin.

McKeesport brushed off its old neighborhood rival, Glassport, 27 to 13. Har-Brack downed Sharon 31 to 6.

Midget Racing Ends Tonight
100-Lap Feature At Canfield With Carter And Pratt Seeking Title Honors

CANFIELD, Ohio, Sept. 10.—Tonight will be the last program of A.A.A. Midget Auto Racing at the Canfield Speedway this season, and will see the running of the annual 100 lap championship classic.

Neal Carter of Miami, Fla., will be in the lineup for this event. Carter will be driving one of the Leitenberger team of Offenhauser cars out of Johnstown. Roy Sherman, National A.A.A. Champion in 1948 will drive the other. Carter will fly here from Syracuse for tomorrow night program. He will compete Saturday afternoon in a big car championship event and will be driving the Lutes-Gdula big car which was formerly driven by the late Wally Stokes.

Carter will have in his competition at Canfield tonight, his most bitter rival, Ralph Pratt, who was formerly his teammate.

In addition to the 100 lap championship classic tomorrow night, the program will include three other big events: 2 Australian Pursuit races and a semi-final event.

Colonel Winn Has Operation
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 10.—(INS)—Col. Matt J. Winn, 88-year-old king of the American turf, who made the Kentucky Derby a national institution today in a Louisville hospital where he underwent surgery.

A nurse attending the elderly Churchill Downs president reported the condition but declined further information, explaining "the family wants no comment at this time." The nurse also declined use of his name.

The story-telling, bourbon-drinking, cigar-smoking Kentucky colonel who has been associated with more than a dozen tracks in his long career was taken to St. Joseph's infirmary last night for surgery to "relieve an intestinal disorder."

Infirmary officials refused to divulge details of the operation.

Kid Gavilan Wins From Castellani
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Kid Gavilan, the Cuban socker who decided to function as a middleweight after losing to welterweight champ Ray Robinson, may have something there.

He felled Rocky Castellani, a series of smoking rights in the International Boxing Club's first Madison Square Garden show last night, and, at 150 pounds, heaviest weight of his career—won by a country kilometer.

The unanimous decision was processed by two knockdowns, both with Castellani on the taking end. The Pennsylvania winner for a count of nine in the second round and the bell saved him in the third.

A crowd of 11,243 paid $31,739 to watch the fight.

Williams Thinks Red Sox Will Win
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Ted Williams, the devastating slugger of the Boston Red Sox, still thinks his club will be in the coming world series.

Climbing out of his monkey suit after yesterday's 7-1 victory over the Yanks, Ted said:

"If we had lost today, it would have been just too bad. We'd have figured if we even won one of the three games we were supposed to play here, we'd still have a pretty good chance. And after we lost the first one and the second one was rained out it was up to us or fold."

"We were and now we are very much in the running and I think we will make it."

ROBINSON WINS NON-TITLE BOUT
OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 10.—(INS)—Welterweight boxing champion Ray "Sugar" Robinson scored a fifth round technical knockout over Ben Evans of Oklahoma City in a ten round non-title bout in Omaha last night.

Robinson pounded Evans almost at will and floored him three times.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

TRAGEDY stalked the family of Stanley Ketchell, born Stanislaus Kiecal, in 1886. Stanley was fatally wounded by a bullet fired by Walter Dipple on a Conway, Mo., farm. Dipple served 34 years for the crime, was paroled, and then disappeared as though swallowed by the earth. Stanley's father, Thomas, was found dead, his throat having been cut in the hay loft of a barn on a farm Stanley bought for his parents in Michigan. As a boxer, Stanley well earned the title "Michigan Assassin". He was poison to opposing middleweights, but his greatest bid for undying fame came when he fought Jack Johnson, world's heavyweight champion. Ketchell knocked down the champion who got up and with his next blow knocked out Ketchell.

The Veteran Boxer of Philadelphia reports an oddity of prize fighting. According to the magazine, when Jimmy Britt fought Joe Gans in San Francisco September 6, 1907, there were no preliminaries. Instead a quartet rendered several songs after which Britt and Gans entered the ring. Britt broke his wrist in the fourth round and was knocked out in the sixth. Jimmy and Stanley Ketchell were managed by Jimmy's brother, Willis. Incidentally, Gans had a career which will live in the memory of fans for many years. Before Joe took to boxing, he was an oyster-opener in Baltimore and was unfurled to the fight public by Al Herford.

Abe Attel and Johnny Kilbane were honor guests at the Shenando Valley Veteran Boxers association, which was held in Farrell, recently. It was from Attel that Johnny, who fought Young Zahner and Battling Terry here, won the featherweight title, which in those days was at 122 pounds. Note to Len Gilbert, president, City Baseball League: Reports reaching Here & There say that damage has been caused to concrete blocks placed at the Lee avenue field. Bessemer and the Lawrence Indies stand 50-50, each having captured a game in the City-County league play-off series. The site of the next game which will be played next week, will be announced later.

Jack Onslow On Way Out As White Sox Manager
By KEN OPSTEIN
(International News Service Staff Writer)

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—It would seem that reports that Jack Onslow will be ousted as field manager of the Chicago White Sox—like the 50,000,000 Frenchmen—can't be wrong.

Both the interchanging silence and sound from club Vice President Charles Comiskey and General Manager Frank Lane seem tantamount to admittance that Onslow won't be back next year.

It's simply a matter of putting two and two together and getting the usual answer.

Onslow and Lane have criticized each other's operations throughout the season. Onslow tried to arrange a dinner with the Comiskey family to secure a vote of confidence in the form of a new contract.

This dinner was cancelled by the Comiskey family because of President Grace Comiskey's "illness."

Onslow Blasted
Vice President Comiskey then blasted Onslow at a news conference for going over Lane's head. And Lane was the one who received the vote of confidence in the form of a new contract.

Comiskey said that Onslow's contract had another year before its expiration. The White Sox executive added:

"I see no reason why Onslow should seek a vote of confidence at this time if he has done as well as he thinks he has."

It seems logical to assume that whether needed or not Comiskey would have given this support to his 59-year-old manager if Onslow was to be retained for 1950.

White Sox Silent
The New York Yankees and other clubs have announced the signing of new contracts with their present managers. The White Sox, however, have been silent.

The club has lost five consecutive games since Onslow's rebuff. Reports of a change in managers have been repeated.

Only a backhanded denial has come from the White Sox management. Lane said:

"Vice President Comiskey and I have talked things over and there will be no announcement of a new manager or a new contract until the season is completed."

Lane added that if a change of managers was contemplated, it would be of little value now since the season is about ended.

Onslow has said that he will not quit and added that it was all right with him if the White Sox wanted to pay him next year for going fishing. His contract is good through 1950.

Chicago Hornets Top Los Angeles
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—(INS)—The Chicago Hornets boasted their second victory in three All-American football conference starts today, thanks to the educated toe of End Jim McCarthy.

The former Illinois flanker-kicker fielded a goal from the 23-yard line with two minutes to play last night to give the Chicagoans a 23-10-21 upset win over the Los Angeles Dons before 30,183 at Memorial Coliseum.

STUDENTS PROTEST BAN ON FOOTBALL

Food Price Drops Being Predicted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Latest federal crop reports predict bumper farm production, with resulting lower prices for the household.

Pork and beef are among the chief food items on which price drops are predicted.

The Agriculture department forecasts that hog prices will slump at least 18 per cent, and says they may fall even further to a point below federal price support levels this fall and winter.

Prices of cattle also are expected to decline—after a seasonal increase—but not so much as hogs.

In addition, the department sees prospects for a near-record crop in feed grains—corn, oats, barley and grain sorghums, which will lay the groundwork for high meat production next year.

Feed grain output this year is estimated at nearly 129 million tons, second only to the 137 million tons produced in 1948.

The nation's total farm production is forecast as the second largest on record—30 per cent above the 1923-32 level.

The department flatly forecasts that this output will be reflected in a drop in food prices during the fall and winter months.

Weather Cut Corn Crop In State

HARRISBURG, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Hot and dry weather during August slashed 700,000 bushels from Pennsylvania's 1949 corn crop estimate.

The State Agriculture department said, however, that the crop still is a bumper 64,728,000 bushels—10,000,000 over the 1938-47 average.

August weather also caused a drop in grape production. The crop now is estimated at 16,400 tons, 1000 tons under August 1 predictions.

The month's hot weather was favorable for oats, the department said, boosting estimates to 24,840,000 bushels, 800,000 higher than on August 1.

Apple, peach and pear estimates also advanced during the month due to beneficial rains, according to the department.

Apple estimates now indicate a bumper crop of 9,350,000 bushels, 110,000 higher than the previous month and nearly 2,000,000 above average.

The peach estimate stands at 2,337,000 bushels, up 143,000 bushels over August 1. Pears advanced from 352,000 bushels to 374,000, while the cherry crop estimate remained at 7,040 tons.

The potato situation failed to improve during August, the department stated, with an estimated 15,400,000 bushel yield indicated.

Emergency Drive For More Polio Funds Speeded

Initial Response Here Encouraging, Chairman William R. Hanna States

Describing initial response to the Polio Epidemic Emergency Drive which opened here Thursday as "heartening," William R. Hanna, chairman of the Lawrence county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, urged intensified efforts and increased giving during the final days of the one-week drive.

"There is no such thing as too much money when the health and welfare of our children is at stake," Mr. Hanna said. "People are giving today because they know that every additional dollar helps, keep polio away from our own doors in the future. The money raised in this emergency drive is needed to pay for the medical care of the thousands stricken and those who will be stricken in this year of incredibly high polio incidence."

Many Chapters Hard Hit

"Only by providing this money now can we protect our own investment in the $10,000,000 research program sponsored by the National Foundation to find the scientific means of controlling this frightful disease. While we care for those stricken today, we cannot for an instant call off the search for the solution that will prevent such attacks in the future. We want to make sure, for the sake of our own children, that both jobs are done simultaneously and effectively."

Funds raised in the emergency campaign will be placed in a special epidemic aid fund at National Foundation headquarters and will be available to all chapters whose March of Dimes funds no longer are available to pay for the medical care of current polio cases.

Contributions are needed—quickly, Mr. Hanna emphasized. "Money may be sent in envelopes addressed to POLIO, care of your local post office."

Hawk More Than Match For Snake

GLENNVILLE, W. Va.—(INS)—How would you bet on a death battle between a four or five foot long black snake—body as thick as your arm—and a fair-sized chicken hawk?

You put your money on the hawk? Well, you're right, according to Simon Arnold of Glennville, Arnold, a Pittsburgh and West Virginia gas company employee, was attracted by a gasping noise behind a large log.

Behind the log he found the chicken hawk and black snake locked in a death struggle. The snake had the hawk in its coils but it still was able to use claws and beak.

One claw was buried in the reptile's side. A big hole had been pecked in the snake's body. The pair evidently had been fighting for at least two days.

When Arnold killed the snake and thus freed the hawk, it attacked him. He clubbed it to death also. He said the hawk undoubtedly would have killed the snake which was practically exhausted when he arrived.

CLEVELAND, (INS)—That library of miscellany—the railroad lost and found department—turns up a few interesting sidelights on America's train-traveling public.

For one thing it is to be noted that men's night wear fashions have partially survived the days of Queen Victoria. Old fashioned nightshirts still turn up in Pullman births.

The lost-property ledger at the Pullman company offices in Cleveland also lists such things as a complete set of false teeth and a sundry assortment of partial plates and bridges.

A Cleveland industrialist leaves his watch behind so frequently that the property clerk knows it by sight and simply telephones the owner whenever it appears in lost and found.

Reading Facts

For a few odd facts on the nation's reading habits, turn to the lost-property custodian for all railroads entering the Cleveland Union terminal building.

In the custodian's bins are the complete works of Shakespeare and other more intellectual material including "The Fundamentals of Semimicro-Quantitative Analysis." But detective stories and novels seldom gather dust. Unlike the intellectual, the mystery story consumer soon claims his lost property.

Labor Union Head Given ECA Position

Harvey W. Brown, former president of the International Association of Machinists, has been named to a high office with the Economic Cooperation Administration.

Mr. Brown has been named director of the Office of Labor Affairs and labor advisor in the ECA, the announcement of his appointment being made by John J. McCloy, high commissioner for United States occupied Germany.

In his new post Mr. Brown becomes one of the eight members of the cabinet of Mr. McCloy.

For many years Mr. Brown headed the IAM, the fourth largest labor union in the United States. On July 1 he retired from the presidency. He has already sailed for Europe to take up his new duties.

It is well known to the officers of the various IAM locals in this district and to the international straighten representative, Alex Skundor.

Star's Blood May Offer Virus Clues

HOLLYWOOD, (INS)—Dana Andrews is going to help lick California's weird "Virus X" malady, if he can.

The screen star, almost down for a full count from the ailment is now fully recovered and working on "My Foolish Heart." The actor is giving a sample of his blood every week to his personal physician who in turn is sending it to the California State Health Department.

"The doctor and the health officers," Dana explains, "figure that perhaps my blood may show some reaction, now that I'm well, that will give them a clue to combat the malady. And believe me, I'm delighted to do it if there's a chance that they'll stumble onto something."

Dana's attack of "Virus X" was the most severe so far recorded in Los Angeles. His temperature fluctuated from 105 degrees to 94 degrees over a period of several days.

The shortest distance across the United States is 2,152 miles from points near Charleston, S. C., and San Diego, Calif.

Football Weather

Now is the time for youngsters to get out with the platoon. The game is a lot of fun.

Dad might have a headache if a forward pass crashes through a neighbor's window. The U. S. F. & G. Comprehensive Personal Liability Policy will protect Dad against legal liability for bodily injury or property damage resulting from Johnny's football game.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10.—This is Hollywood, Mister Jones:—There are more churches than nightclubs in Hollywood. Some actors collect wives. Adolphe Menjou and Parkyakarkus collect coins. Myrna Loy collects old china and once acquired a herd of Merry-Go-Round horses. Max Factor, Jr., makeup stylist for glamour queens constantly receives collector requests for tips to remove surplus lipstick. Factor recently was asked by an Idaho movie fan for locks of hair from all the stars Charles Boyer has kissed on the screen. Irene Dunne, who doesn't admit to rolling snuff, owns a costly collection of jade snuff bottles.

Ways To Fake

When you see an actor shaving in a movie scene, he seldom is using real shaving cream. Pie meringue looks more like shaving cream. "Blood" is "grounded" actors usually is chocolate syrup. Rain in storm scenes almost is artificial, sprayed by overhead shower pipes. Real rain doesn't look like rain to the camera.

Cheryl Rogers, cowboy star Roy Rogers' oldest, writes daily fan letters to her hero—Cowboy Actor Allan (Rocky) Lane, who also rides the range for Republic. Cycle: Titles of four new pictures are "Rope of Sand," "Sands of Iwo Jima," "Quicksand," and just plain "Sand." One thing Herbert Marshall doesn't have is a picture of Herbert Marshall.

Most actors have their own photos plastered all over their homes, but when a portrait of Marshall was needed for a scene in "The Whipl" he had to go out and have some made. Texas, the Lone Star State, has contributed more female stars to Hollywood than any other state in Uncle Sugar Able.

Only Two Left

Nearly 20 years ago seven young actors zoomed to prominence in a great flicker, "All Quiet on the Western Front." Today two of them, Lew Ayres and William Bakewell, are working together.

for the first time since then. The film is Niven Busch's "Daybreak" at Republic.

Of the seven whose lives and deaths were traced in "All Quiet on the Western Front" only Ayres and Bakewell still are actors. Of the others, Ben Alexander is a radio M. Exiled Russian Denounces Joe LARAMIE, Wyo.—(INS)—Alexander Kerensky, exiled Russian who led the revolution against the Czar in 1917, voiced a ringing denunciation of Joseph Stalin and Communism at the Institute of International Affairs on the University of Wyoming campus.

The distinguished Russian believes that many millions of Russians are not followers of Stalin but, on the contrary, hate their Communist overlords and long for freedom and democracy.

He urged the democratic countries to make a distinction between the Soviet government and the Russian people, and to base their politics on the desire of the Russian people for friendship.

Historical Society Saves Landmarks

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—(INS)—The famed Pony Express stables in St. Joseph will not be sold for taxes, after all.

Public opinion, aroused by editors of the St. Joseph Gazette and News-Press and other civic-minded citizens, has led to plans for an historical society to preserve the city's early sites.

These include, besides the stables from which the first riders dashed forth in 1860—"Californy bound"—the home of Joseph Robidoux, founder of the city, and his grave; "Lover's Lane," immortalized by Eugene Field, and the Patee House, early day hotel. Another site, more notorious than famous, is the home of Jesse James in which the Missouri outlaw was slain. It is owned now by a filling station proprietor who uses it as a tourist-trade magnet.
